Women and War

For our women readers, Mr. George Rikaris has prepared a very exhaustive study on the place of the frailer sex in war and allied industries. We believe that this is one of the most worthwhile articles yet to be published on the subject. Mr. Rikaris believes that the first half of 1944 holds the best opportunities for women, and that some recession will take place thereafter. Don't fail to read this article.

MacArthur-Mountbatten

The appointment of Britain's Lord Mountbatten as military chief in the Burma area caused a great deal of comment weeks ago, especially on the part of those who believed that our own General MacArthur should have been given this highly important command. A comparison of the charts of these two military leaders makes excellent reading. (Page 4).

Infantile Paralysis

One of the most dreaded diseases of the century is poliomyelitis or, as we know it, infantile paralysis. Dr. Haworth treats on this from the astrologer's viewpoint. Turn to page 9.

THE MOUNTBATTEN— MacARTHUR CHARTS

A Comparison

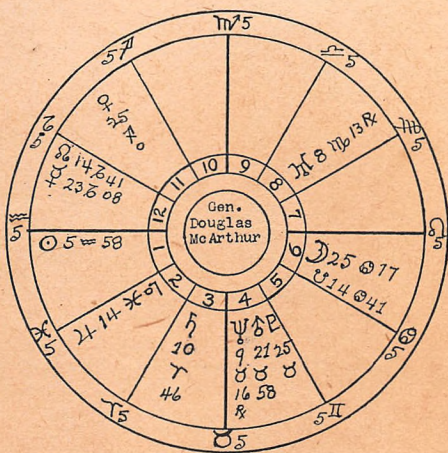

WORLD attention has been attracted by the appointment of Lord Louis Mountbatten, cousin of the King of England as head of the forces which are to take the offensive against the Japanese in Burma.

Well-known in the United States because of his visits here and the publicity he received as a leader of the British Commandos, this British peer is something of an astrological stranger. There has been a minimum of astrological discussion concerning his character and ability to carry out the job assigned to him.

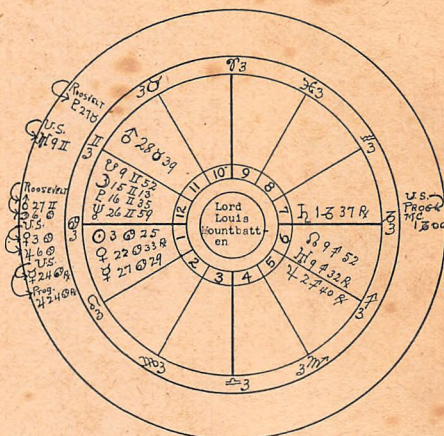

Lord Mountbatten was born June 25, 1900 when the Sun was entering the sign Cancer.

Venus, also in Cancer at his birth, gives him his highly social nature and probably accounts to a degree for his high appointment. He has strong likes and dislikes and is over-sensitive, touchy and easily offended. Vivid imagination is united with action which is backed by a forceful determination and unyielding persistence. He is intolerant of obstacles.

The planetary formations at his birth show a nature which is somewhat handicapped by the opposition he breeds in others. For this reason he often finds strong forces pitted against him.

Lord Mountbatten has a true warrior's birth map and while it indicates participation in vast conflicts, there seems to be an element of failure present despite his undeniable ability.

There are two prime features which demand attention in our study of this military leader. First, the conjunction of the Sun and Neptune form an opposition with the planet Saturn. This is rated as a strong adverse aspect and could be productive of disaster. This may be said to have accounted to some degree for the results of the unfortunate raid led by him at Dieppe on August 19, 1942. It should be stated, however, that from an astrological standpoint probably no worse time for the venture could have been chosen than that particular date.

A further obstacle is the position of progressed Saturn which has moved back into the long-distance, chance-taking sign Sagittarius and picked up the opposition to his two dependents for naval and military action—progressed Mars and Neptune. This can be compared to a fast, stream-lined cruiser dragging its anchor while in action.

WHAT 1944 HOLDS FOR YOU

By FRANK J. MCCARTHY

YOU may have all the qualities that make for success, but their possession will be without good result unless they are co-ordinated into one strong force for personal advancement.

Any single weakness in your success armor can make ineffective all the other important factors. Hence, it is imperative that you search for these points of lesser strength and develop them to their needed proportions.

Whatever your assets, your future will be measured by your ambition and the determination and persistency you employ in reaching your goal.

How best to use your abilities and put behind them the necessary drive to take you along the road that leads to love, success and happiness is charted in your Kabalistic Forecast for 1944 which follows:

Aries

Two phases will be prominent in your life this year—the desire for beauty, affection, pleasure, and all that is spiritually bright. The other, just as worthwhile, will be your desire to increase your income and possessions. You will come quite close to getting almost everything to which you aspire, unless you allow your wits to go wool-gathering. Slow down now and then so as to have time to catch up with your work, since neglected details may cause confusion and delay. Your intuitions will be amazingly sensitive, and your awareness of the future almost uncanny.

Taurus

If adventure tempts you to forget your obligations and ideals, and pleasure dulls your initiative, you may jeopardize your happiness. But if you are resolute as well as ardent, adhering with conscientious fidelity to your actual and implied vows, you will gain admiration as well as material reward. A person who is in a position to boost you may give you valuable assistance, due to your obvious enterprise and enthusiasm. Develop self-control, for impatience or anger may create secret enmity against you.

Gemini

Your mind will be lucid, your ideas practical, and your imagination sparkling. Begin a correspondence course on a subject in which you are interested, or brush up your memory by reading and research work. Don't get involved emotionally with a comparative stranger. Also avoid traffic hazards, and be careful in your contact with animals. A slight injury might come unexpectedly. This need not happen if you are careful. You may experience a good deal of delight through the selection by a young relative of a public career.

Cancer

Circumstances will favor you this year whether you go after a better job, ask for an increase in pay, aspire to public acclaim, or otherwise try to turn your hopes into actualities. Someone who has wealth and authority may be ready and willing to assist you. Perhaps you will acquire new friends from afar, or you will be able to travel, and participate in an interesting exchange of correspondence. Do not give way to doubt. Stress the cheerful side of life; look for romance in work as well as pleasure.

Leo

What others have done you can do, whether you have to remove a real or imaginary encumbrance. Put your shoulder to the wheel with a vim, and though you meet up with an occasional barrier, you will be able to win against them. It will take strenuous effort to gain ascendancy over the hurdles in your way, but it is indicated that you will be satisfied with what you accomplish. The tempo of your social life will be rather agreeable, with several jolly companions looking to you for inspiration and leadership in planning original parties.

Virgo

Luck fluctuates as rapidly as does adversity. If things have gone awry, do not let despair disturb you. Refuse to wait in your desire for victory. Propel yourself into action. The cosmic forces in the next few months are favorable for selling and buying. A trip may be taken, to your advantage, either by yourself or someone else. You will be increasingly popular and make new social and business acquaintances, some of whom will materially aid you in your long-time interests.

Libra

Avoid action that will affect partnerships or bring public disapproval during the next three months. Sit tight. Let others make abrupt changes if they choose. Your time will come in the

THE NATION

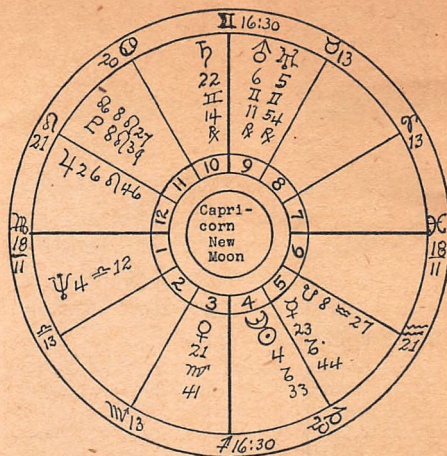

In December and January

THERE'S real significance in the planetary formation of the Sagittarius lunation of November 27, 1943. An extremely exciting period is scheduled for this lunar cycle in the sign of foreign affairs, international law, global activities and travel.

The lunation occurs on the eleventh-house cusp, stressing congressional and legislative conduct which can bring about strong difference of opinion. This will probably be accompanied by breaks in political relations and some heated clashes over war policy and management. Sudden and unexpected happenings in government circles and a change in our military program are indicated.

This planetary formation can bring about some condition that will be reflected in the histories of our nation and the world.

The sign and house location of the planets at this lunation is unique, as it constitutes the first indication of real change in the destructive war groupings and relationships of planets since the beginning of World War II in 1939. Generally the pattern favors peace negotiations which, added to the good auspices for insipid peace proposals noted in our last issue for November 11, 1943, should begin to produce something real in the way of prospects for the termination of hostilities. This lunation chart is closely linked to the war maps of Hitler and Berlin as well as that of President Roosevelt.

The following summation of planetary positions and the indications which they produce cannot fail to be evident to even the tyro in Astrology:

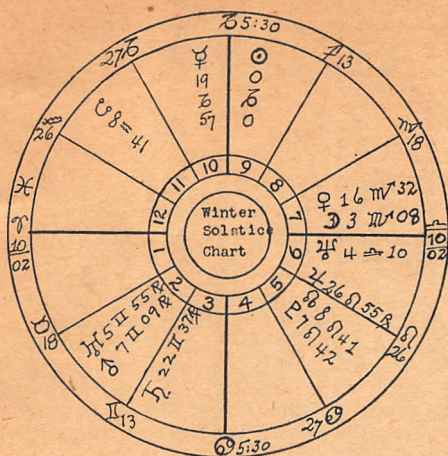

Mercury is in the international and negotiation sign Sagittarius, linked by aspect to Venus and Libra, in the ninth house of foreign relations. Mercury is the planet of statements, negotiations and communications. Venus represents peace and harmony, while Libra sponsors justice and adjustments which lead to agreements and unity of interests.

Venus forms an aspect to Jupiter in the executive sign Leo in the seventh house of war and peace. One of the most favorable indications for the beginning of a real peace movement is the good aspect of Venus to Jupiter, this being especially true because it is formed from a section of the chart that governs treaties and negotiations applying to that of international relationships during war. This becomes still more impressive when we note that Venus is at the place of Uranus (government officialdom) in Hitler's chart, in his twelfth house of weakness and defeat. Add to this the fact that Jupiter is on the Berlin locality ascendant (ruling the German people).

Looking farther we find that the South Node (cup of sorrow) of Hitler's chart is rising in the twelfth house near the ascendant of this Washington lunation. Uranus in the twelfth house, square to the Nodes, indicates disaster to Hitler.

President Roosevelt's military Mars is on the sixth cusp of the army sector, properly posited to give him power for any action required by the international situation.

The official and diplomatic sign Capricorn ascends at Washington with its ruling Saturn in the fifth department of plans, negotiations and ambassadors. Saturn is now high in the mid-heaven of President Roosevelt's chart and its relation to Berlin has a retiring influence on German army operations. There is a peace pattern in the zodiac and it is the zodiacal wheel that governs the conditions of the world and its nations.

Uranus in Gemini in the fifth house stresses governmental action concerning diplomatic procedure, colonial affairs and representatives of both our Allies and the enemy.

The planetary occupancy of the house in the lunation chart is significant because only the houses which relate to the war situation are stirred into action at this time. The houses concerned are as follows:

11th house—Friendships and aspirations.

9th house—Foreign affairs, discussions, treaties, news.

8th house—Battles, financial relations and arrangements.

7th house—War, peace, relations to other countries.

5th house—Creative plans and negotiation designs, ambassadors, arrangements.

Venus governs the ninth house of co-operative dealings and the fourth house which completes any matters that are already under way. She applies to Saturn by prime aspect encouraging a successful outcome of negotiations.

Mars conjunct Uranus on January 16, 1944 assures successful operations of our forces in the Pacific. The South Node (point of failure) of the Japanese constitution chart ascends at Washington, indicating some telling blows against the Nippons.

The full Moon chart of December 11, 1943 at Washington shows a culmination of a Sagittarius new Moon. The intercepted signs in the first and seventh houses of the new Moon chart now move up to the surface with Mercury remaining in the eleventh, indicating a more independent action on the part of Congress toward the administration.

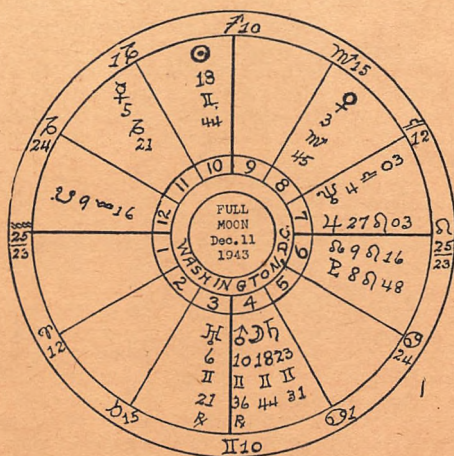

A finishing touch is evident, with Uranus, Mars, Moon, Saturn all registering in the culmination sector. Especially significant is the position of Mars on the fourth cusp at the place of progressed Uranus in the U. S. chart. This is a pivotal area, and Mars here indicates U. S. domination in world affairs.

The Winter Solstice chart of December 22, 1943 indicates the over-all trend of the first quarter of 1944, portending what can easily be one of the most important periods in the world's history. Developments at this time can affect the welfare of every person on earth. It is a culminating cycle and one which can hold the fate of the world in its embrace.

Sun square Neptune in the sixth house indicates strife in labor channels, internal friction concerning materials and war policies. Jupiter in the sixth house is encouraging for the activities of our armed forces but indicates vast expenditures.

Moon and Venus in the seventh house in Scorpio sponsor secret negotiations concerning peace issues. Mercury in Capricorn (diplomacy) in the tenth

WAR AND WOMEN

By GEORGE RIKARIS

IN May, 1942, Uranus moved into Gemini, the Sign commonly assigned to the United States. Such a Sign transit could bring only changes to our way of living in the United States. Jupiter—Planet of finance—and Venus also in Cancer during July of 1942 served to channelize much of the Uranian-Gemini force so that it was directed with especial strength upon women. And most of this influence would be of benefit to women because of the semi-sexile relationship existing between Gemini and Cancer.

In a manner of speaking, the Uranus in Gemini influence can be compared to the main charge of a bomb. Jupiter and Venus in Cancer correspond to the booster charge that sets off the main explosion. Thus, it might almost be said that women in the United States have been subjected to a sort of astrological explosion. One of the big changes brought about by this set of influences has been the movement of thousands of women into war industry.

Through the fall and winter of 1943 as well as most of 1944, Neptune in Libra is in fairly close trine aspect to Uranus. This helps women to consolidate gains in industry, advance to better jobs and gain new skills. Until November 9, Venus in Virgo squaring the Uranian-Gemini combination gives force aiding women to overcome obstacles connected with employment. Then, when Venus passes into Libra, it assists and partakes of the trine relationship. The current period is favorable for women in industry due to these transients. This winter is the ideal time for women to accomplish whatever they want by way of advancement or settling themselves in their jobs.

There have also been other forces in the Zodiac which have tremendous influences in the life of every woman today—both with regard to their internal emotional lives and to their status in war industry.

In June, 1942, Jupiter entered Cancer—a Sign having strong influence in the lives of women. Jupiter assisted from that time on in getting pay-rates for women almost on a par with those of men doing similar work. This is only as it should be and the increase of pay to woman was made possible because Jupiter is the Planet of justice as well as of money. A word might be said here that Jupiter and Cancer also gives to woman's war work a really sincere patriotism, a working for ideals as well as for money.

Another transit that also helped women to their present industrial position in the war effort has been the passage of Saturn into Gemini. And Saturn stays in Gemini until the summer of 1944. Gemini is a Sign ruling activity and change in the United States.. Saturn represents conservative and old-fashioned ideas.

Therefore, Saturn in this Sign has indirectly benefitted women by losing therein some of its conservative influence. The general Saturnian power—admitted to be somewhat restrictive where women and their affairs are concerned—has been weakened in Gemini, thus bringing about a breaking down of time-encrusted prejudices. The woman's-place-is-only-in-the-home school of thought was given a rather rude shaking up by the events precipitated by the "pepping up" of Saturn in the Sign of the Twins.

In early October, 1942, Neptune swept into Libra. It retrograded into Virgo during April of 1943 and did not return to Libra until early August. It will remain in Libra for many years. Barring the period of retrogression—many women will recall having encountered difficulties connected with their employment during the April-August span of 1943—Neptune in Libra has helped thousands of women to industrial success. While Neptune is in the first Decan of Libra, it is disposed of by woman's Planet—Venus. This further helps women to get benefit from the trine of Neptune and Uranus.

One effect of the current position of Neptune in Libra has been the tendency of women to try hard not to lose femininity and charm, even when engaged in heavy or dirty work. It is this influence that aids women to so successfully preserve their womanliness.

Venus disposing of Neptune acts upon employers through Uranus leading them to make working conditions as congenial as possible for their women employees. Clean-up jobs in factories, the furnishing of attractive rest-rooms, the designing of attractive working clothes for women and many other similar improvements and conveniences for women are due to the Neptunian disposition by Venus. As Libra rules

Astro-Aid For Infantile Paralysis

By Dr. A. J. HAWORTH

SINCE reading the splendid astro-diagnosis of Getulio Vargas, poliomyelitis victim, in the April-May issue of TODAY'S ASTROLOGY, we have done more research on the astrocause and cure for infantile paralysis. For we firmly believe that in the cause for all disease the cure will be revealed. Medical science is trying to find the virus which causes the disease so they can start the search for an anti-virus serum injection. And medical men have done much to relieve the dreaded disease, by the iron lung, hydrotherapy, etc., but freely admit no cure has been found, because the virus has not been isolated.

Astrologers have enough evidence on hundreds of charts to show that Uranus and Neptune tangled up with Aquarius, Leo, Gemini, and Sagittarius, especially when connected with the ascendant and the sixth sign and house, are responsible. Mercury, ruler of the sympathetic nervous system and Gemini, ruler of lungs and arms also comes into the picture. Uranus rules the nerve force in the body, Neptune rules the nerve sheaths; naturally the spinal covering is most important and when coupled with Leo, ruler of the spinal column itself there is double play on the back bone. Aquarius, ruler of the nerve force, zodiacally, has Saturn for a coruler and he rules the spinal bony structure as well as all the bones, of course.

Sagittarius is connected by reflex from Gemini and by Neptune for we contend that Neptune is coruler of Sagittarius. The sun, ruler of Leo, also rules the spleen the ingress for external vital force. Mercury further exerts itself as ruler of the house of health.

Three years ago a patient, worn woman brought us a child victim of infantile paralysis. And here is the astrological picture, briefly — Sun combust Mercury in Gemini, square and parallel Uranus. The sun and Uranus meet in the spine as Uranus rules the ethers and the sun rules the spine and heart. Mercury being involved, shows poverty in the sensory nervous system and Uranus indicates explosive sudden action, over which control is almost impossible. Saturn in the sixth-house governed by Scorpio in this chart is exalted by sign. And brings us to WHERE the trouble struck: In the sacrum. Saturn's sign position seems to be the best guide to the area where the "explosion" occurs.

In this connection let us note that our President's chart shows a troublesome aspect between the sun and Uranus. His sun is in Aquarius, ruled by Uranus, and is on the health house. Uranus on the ascendant (almost exact conjunct) with Virgo, the sign of health clashes with the sun. These are two typical charts, to show what is meant by the above notations. The Vargas horoscope has the same thread running through it: Neptune afflicted, Saturn in Leo opposing Uranus in Aquarius. Uranus in Virgo's house and the sun in Virgo on the ascendant. It is further shown that the transits of Saturn and Uranus in Gemini brought death in this chart. Naturally, the above combinations do not have enough mitigating aspects to offset the adverse conditions.

The girl mentioned was struck when three years old, with a spasm lasting three hours and left the sacrum badly twisted, partly paralyzing both limbs. The lungs were not vitally effected due to the sun's position in Gemini; but epileptic fits were very frequent after the attack. At twelve she could wriggle along without crutches or a cane but due to the spasms her mother had to be her constant companion. The girl has a cheerful disposition and even a nervous sense of humor. We instituted massage of the limbs and sacrum, a couple of hours daily in a warm pool, splashing around and got her interested in riding a tricycle. A high vitamin diet was started and gradually with the fine cooperation of both mother and child she became interested in drawing and coloring pictures as well as some elementary needle work. (Libra on the sixth cusp of employment is interested in the fine arts). The mental angle is just as important, maybe more, in the cure.

After three months the fits ceased almost entirely and much better leg coordination was evident. The bones are so soft in children that if the nerve distribution and supply can be aug-

Three Librans --

Hull, Welles, Stettinius

The Appointment of Mr. Stettinius Is the Key to Our Future.

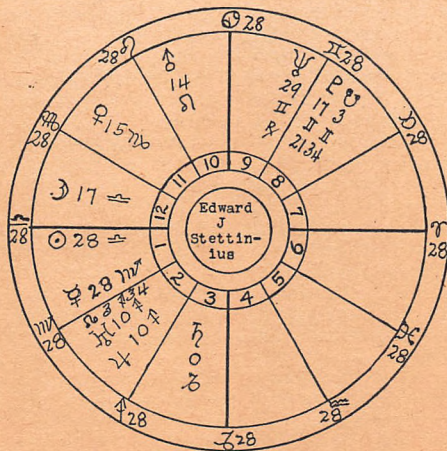

ALWAYS important, the state department of any nation assumes the cardinal rôle in national life during wartime.

The United States and its state department could not be considered exceptions to this rule. It should be no surprise to any serious student of Astrology that Libra, the sign of the scales or balances, attains a vitally significant prominence in our state department during this most trying period of our history as a nation.

Nor is this importance of Libra in our state affairs temporary. This same relative importance will continue to exist during the next fourteen years.

Just why interest should be centralized upon this area of the zodiac at this time would be a natural question from the layman. The reason is clear. The mystical planet Neptune, identified by Astrology with Utopian movements and the spiritual side of our existence will be located by transit in Libra up to September of 1957, with the exception of the period from November 1, 1956 to May 1, 1957.

Neptune in Libra indicates a large-scale political socialization of the world. An equalization of social and economic rights through the adjustment of existing social conditions naturally follows this transit.

Solar chart of Edward J. Stettinius born October 22nd, 1900.

In the esoteric consideration of Astrology, the four horses of the Book of Revelations correspond to the four rivers of Eden and represent the zodiacal signs Virgo, Libra, Scorpio and Sagittarius. The black horse is Libra, a balance between the constructive and destructive forces, always ready to bring harmony and justice into manifestation.

The word "balance" is interchangeable with "horizon," that even or dividing line between the upper and lower half of a circle such as the equator when reference is made to the earth. It is the separating line between the northern and southern hemispheres and divides such opposite seasons of the year as summer and winter.

To proceed a step farther, Libra represents the scales of justice in human affairs, which is a manifestation of the Justice Ray coming through this area of the zodiac in the changing of the cycles. This is a most pertinent consideration at this time when the forces of materialism and ignorance are at grips with those who seek to guide us toward enlightenment and earth's nearest approach to Utopia.

In simple language, the Utopian ideal referred to above is the much-discussed Four Freedoms. It is the law of the Universe that both these forces should exist and that mankind should be free to make his decision as to the merits of each. The negative side of this conflict is represented by the aggressor nations who seek to retard civilization and education while the positive side—the United Nations—aims for a higher life for the world's inhabitants.

Herein is where the sign Libra performs its natural function as the bridge or pivot for the law of opposites in which the destructive egos trend downward while the constructive ones seek a higher plane.

To return to our subject of the current prominent Libra expression in our State Department, let us discuss the Libra personalities involved.

The dominant urge of Libra is to bring about a state of equilibrium or balance. This is achieved through agreement as a result of a unity of interest and purpose.

Libra natives are motivated by the desire for equalization. They are positively influenced by harmony and beauty. The factor of comparison is used extensively and the Libran is prone to vacillate back and forth, reluctant to make a decision. At the same time the Libran is far more likely to give a positive than a negative answer to your question. This is because Libra seeks to please, seeks conquest by diplomacy and conciliation.

The sign Libra is on the ascendant of Hitler's chart and thus influences his motives. We therefore find small reason to wonder why he began his conquests peacefully, using diplomacy rather than force. Libra does better with a partner, so Hitler aligned himself with Mussolini. Libra functions with associates, which accounts for the association of Hitler and his Axis partner.

Libra types of activity usually lead to circumstances which call for apologies and explanations.

According to his own reports and accounts, Secretary Hull had ample forewarning of the plans and intentions of Japan before Pearl Harbor. Yet he continued negotiations with the deceptive Jap envoys. In recounting this undeniable fact, there is no intention to place even the slightest suspicion upon the loyalty and patriotism of Secretary Hull. What we are discussing now is the Libra tendency toward peace even to the extent of appeasement. It was quite natural for Libran Hull to hope that despite his knowledge of Japan's intentions, war could be avoided by continued negotiations.

Solar chart of Secretary of State Cordell Hull born October 2nd, 1871.

We have heard much about appeasement during the past four years. Chamberlain of Britain, practiced appeasement in his negotiations with Hitler and the result is history. Certainly our State Department has followed a policy of appeasement toward Spain.

Appeasement is one of the negative phases of the Libra character. Its chief manifestation is attempting to achieve a desired goal by avoiding friction and not offending the other party.

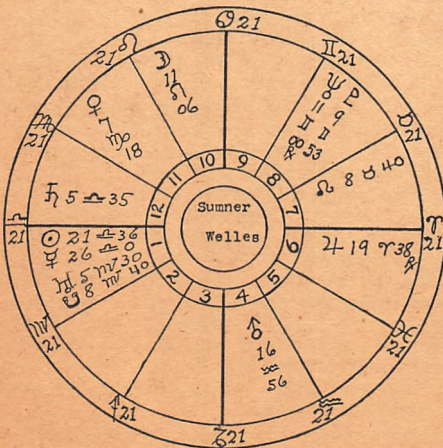

And here lies the chief difference between the natural characteristics of Libran Hull and Aquarian Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt has acquiesced in the modified appeasement program as practiced by Secretary Hull, but the President tempers and partially offsets this by power politics and pressure exerted in the right place to enforce his demands.

The negative (appeasement) quality of the Libra nature is well offset by excellent characteristics expressed by the positive side. Diplomacy, tact, companionship, justice, compassion, honor and adaptation as well as forgiveness are always prominent in the Libra character.

Libra leans toward politics because it represents the uniting of groups and factions for social management and achievement. It is ever in the foreground of group movements and associations such as the old guild organizations and cooperative pioneering aimed at social progress.

The sign Libra is a vital factor in the lives of all United States citizens because it represents the "fate" element of the U. S. horoscope. Libra houses the planet Saturn (executive action, politi-

WHAT WILL THE BLOOD TEST SHOW?

By ELBERT BENJAMINE

President of the Church of Light

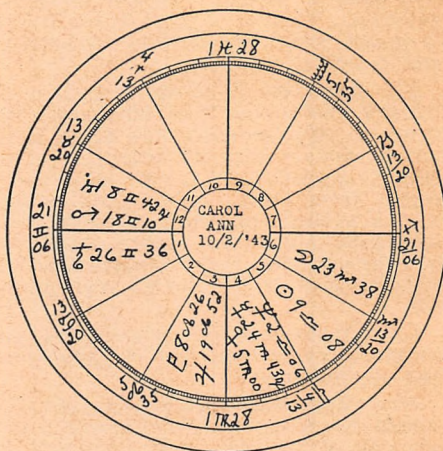

ON JUNE 3, 1943, Joan Berry, red-haired actress and former protege of Film Comedian Charlie Chaplin filed a paternity suit against Chaplin in Superior Court. She alleged she was once tutored and ticketed for film fame, wooed and won and then cast aside. Following filing of the suit an agreement was reached that a blood test would be taken of the infant when she was 4 months old to determine if Chaplin could have been the father, or that he could not have been. In the meantime Chaplin married Oona O'Neil, youthful daughter of famous playwright Eugene O'Neil.

Carol Ann, the youngster whose paternity is yet to be determined by the court after the blood test is taken, was born October 2, 1943, in a Los Angeles Hospital, 10:30 p.m., PWT. The mother had entered the hospital under the name of Spencer, Chaplin's middle name.

In the book, When and What Events Will Happen, the charts of 100 children born out of wedlock are analyzed. They consist of 47 girls and 53 boys whose births, taken from the records of a hospital for unfortunate girls, all were timed to the minute. In only 6 charts was the tenth house (mother) unaffected, and in only 8 was the fourth house (father) unaffected. More commonly also—which is not the case in this chart—Venus is in aspect to Mars; and—as is true also of this chart—a girl usually has Venus or Mars aspecting the Sun.

As the Sun rules the male sex in general, this latter aspect signifies that due to the intensity of their love natures from birth, or due to the conditioning of their affectional trends by the special attitude of society toward them after birth, for good or ill the opposite sex has a more than average influence upon their lives.

The afflicted tenth house in such charts shows the difficulties encountered by the mother, and as the tenth also rules the reputation, the stigma which so often follows a birth out of wedlock. Here we find Neptune, ruler of the tenth, square Saturn in the house of personality (first). Neptune is the planet of mystery, and as it is located in the house of the father (fourth), and thus aspecting the child's personality, the mystery afflicting (square) the child relates to her father.

Relative to the father, however, two other planets in the fourth have significance; for Mercury there, square Mars, Ascendant and Saturn, indicates controversy over the father, and Venus there, chief ruler of the father, square Uranus in the house of secret things (twelfth), indicates a strange (Uranus) situation.

As the twelfth house, in which Uranus is located, rules hospitals, there are not merely unusual factors relating to the child's paternity, but unusual factors surrounding its birth in the hospital. It was, perhaps, not so unusual that her tiny footprints were immediately taken and retaken so there can be no question of her identity as "the baby" in the paternity suit. Perhaps it was even not so unusual that two physicians—Dr. Russell Wood Star and Dr. Lewis Stanton, delivered Carol Ann. But it certainly was not ordinary for certain others to be present.

Said to be representing Chaplin at the birth were Dr. Russell Sands and an as-

YOUR MYSTIC LIFE

ESP Department

Staff-Conducted by CHRISTINA DAHL, Associate Editor, TODAY'S ASTROLOGY. Address letters to 3041 N. Kolmar Ave., Chicago 41, Ill.

What is ESP? Does everyone possess psychic perception, occult powers? Can these mysterious abilities be developed and used at will? How can you gain information not available to the physical senses? Send and receive thoughts from a distance? How is it possible to foresee events before they happen? Or "see" things happening at a distance? Do the dead ever communicate with the living?

These are a few of the many questions with which this department will deal. In each issue of TODAY'S ASTROLOGY we will present your real-life experiences with psychic phenomena.

Have you ever had a prophetic dream? A clairvoyant, telepathic, or other psychic experience that proved valid? Read below the experiences of other TODAY'S ASTROLOGY readers; then, if you have had a similar true experience, WRITE AND TELL US ABOUT IT. Be sure to state if we may publish your letter.

A WELL-FOUNDED HUNCH

Dear Miss Dahl: What strange power caused me to take a wholly illogical course, one that seemed entirely insane, yet later proved to be right?—It was 12 years ago. I had two offers of positions, the first one to work in a beautiful environment, and travel (which I love) as an interpreter and confidential secretary for a Dr. A., prominent in public life. The second was a job as stenog in a cubbyhole of an untidy office, for a cantankerous employer, at only half the salary offered in the first "prestige" position. Who wouldn't have grabbed the first position with its prestige, salary, congenial employer, gracious living? Yet, the strongest hunch made me refuse it, and accept the second position, the prospect of which I hated! My family seriously thought I had gone unbalanced mentally.—But, subsequent events proved my choice to have been right! Had I taken the first grand position I would have been with Dr. A when on the way to meeting a foreign representative, he and his secretary were killed in an auto accident on the way! As for the job I did take, it gave me nothing—nothing except my life!

Mrs. E. D. Habgood, Jr.
Winnipeg, Man., Canada

How many of us have not had strong hunches, causing us to take a seemingly illogical and foolish course, only to find that events later substantiated our "unreasonable" choice? This is a common type of ESP experience, though not often as dramatic as in the above contributor's case. Astro students will be interested to know that the ESP planet Pluto was transiting the lady's Sun at the time of this strange experience. (Birth data held confidential, as requested.)

A CHILD'S DREAM

Dear Miss Dahl: When I was five years old, I had a dream which came true. Mother and I shared a large house with seven of our relatives, who can all testify to the truth of this account. I dreamed one night that our house was burning and there was much confusion. At the breakfast table the next morning I told the family about my dream of the fire. The following night my aunt awakened smelling smoke, and roused all the family. We all headed for safety, and escaped injury, but the house, with all our belongings burned to the ground.

ANOTHER CHILD PREDICTS

Dear Friends: How is it that a child of less than six years was able to see into the future and predict in every detail a family happening that has been a classic wonder story ever since? I was twelve, my little brother six. One morning the kid came down with a dream that went something like this: "Mr. Nolan sent papa far far away. Papa went in a great big car with a soldier (he meant chauffeur) driving; and the man in the high boots had a lot of horses, and papa rided the horses and hurted hisself and went to the hospital. Then papa went away on the big boat and made lots and lots of money." Of course, the family just laughed. Papa was an

The ASTROLOGY of HANDWRITING

By MARY ADAMS LLOYD

(This is the tenth article in the series on Handwriting)

Handwriting Shows Ambition

THE Dictionary says that ambition is "eagerness to achieve something." It then specifies that it can be worthy, or "an inordinate desire for power and distinction." Briefly, AMBITION IS DESIRE. Can one have "too much of a good thing?" asks Rosalind in "As You Like It." To be sure one can. Any good thing carried to excess is bad. So, any ambition—whether good or unworthy—if carried to excess is "too much of a good thing". Handwriting shows whether ambition is lacking, normal, or in excess.

How would you expect a person with Jupiter square Uranus to write? Especially if he had Sun square Mars as well? In the Sun chart illustrated let us first see what is outstanding. The Sun in Cancer is conjunction Neptune and square Mars in Libra; Jupiter in Pisces is square Uranus in Sagittarius; Mars in Libra is trine Saturn in Aquarius; Mars is also trine Mercury in Gemini. Not having the exact time of birth in order to establish the cusps and houses is a handicap, yet much can be told by the aspects of the planets to each other.

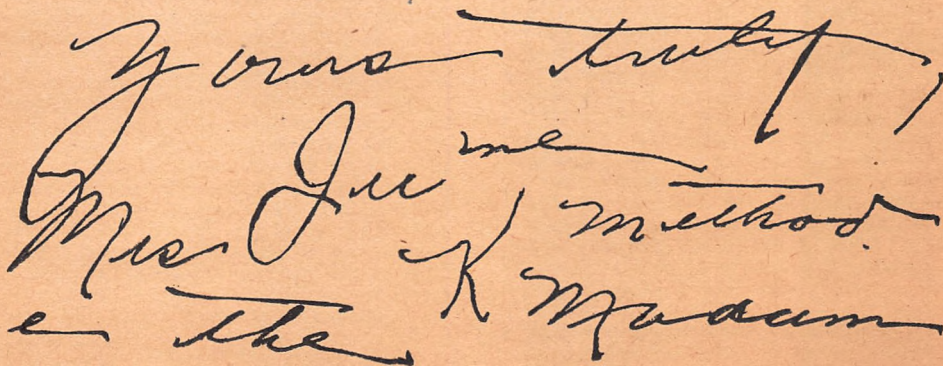

At First Glance

The general appearance of this handwriting is large, expansive, Jupiterian; heavy and muddy. It is rounded, not angular; which makes it less aggressive than if it were full of angles. It is extended, that is spread out, which is also a characteristic of Jupiter, and shows that Jupiter has a stronger influence than Saturn. A strong Saturn would pinch the writing. The slant is neither too far to the right nor too much to the left, but has a good average which shows a certain degree of poise. The looped letters (capital Y and J) show excessive imagination, which easily blends into deceit. The writing is dominant, shown by the down stroke of the small "y" in "truly". It has courage which is shown by the very positive appearance and an almost exaggerated feeling of independence shown by the unconventional shape of some of the letters. The muddy look indicates the sensual trait expressed in the chart by Sun square Mars. These are the characteristics most easily seen, and, in this case, are all phases of the writer's ambition.

Study the Astrological Aspects

Let us now look at the signs, positions and aspects of the planets and find out how the horoscope and the handwriting tell the same story. To begin with, the Sun is in Cancer conjunction Neptune which gives an interest in occultism. This man would not have consulted an astrologer if he had not been drawn to occultism; shown both by the Sun in Cancer and Sun conjunction Neptune. Another characteristic — great enthusiasm—is attributed by Charles E. O. Carter to Sun conjunction Neptune, and is also indicated by the generally "high, wide and handsome" appearance of the writing and the definite long, full loops of the capital Y and J, as well as the extremely long crossing of the "t" in "truly" and "method".

Yours truly,

The Sun square Mars indicates energy, courage, activity, ambition, assertiveness and force. All these are shown in the writing and the fact that the Sun is square Mars indicates a lack of restraining influence. There is certainly nothing restrained nor repressed in this specimen. The Sun square Mars also shows that the native is outspoken; and the open "a"s, "o"s in "yours" and "madam" indicate that the writer is very talkative. The heavy strokes are anything but delicate, and the down stroke of the "y" in "truly" is proof of his strong will, force and aggressiveness.

The Moon opposition Saturn is only a possibility because the birth hour is not known. But if this aspect should happen to be correct, this man's self-reliance and aggressiveness are explained by the Moon in Leo; and its opposition to Saturn in Aquarius indicates his avariciousness. His writing puts this characteristic beyond the shadow of a doubt as can be seen by the great number of "hooks" both at the beginning and end of his words. Anyone whose handwriting shows these hooks is acquisitive—call it ambition if you want to be polite. Acquisitiveness is just ambition's bad brother. But the writer is always out to "hook" something. It may be money, a political job, social position or any of a dozen other things. If the writing shows these "hooks" you can depend on it that the writer has some goal which he is determined to reach; and it is never a benevolent one, but always selfish. Even if the Moon is not in opposition to Saturn, the equinox of Sun-Neptune to Saturn would explain these hooks—a selfish disregard of other's feelings in order to attain his ends.

Note the Hooks

Jupiter in Pisces square Uranus in Sagittarius is typical of the extravagance shown in the size of this handwriting. Carter describes this aspect as showing that the nature is "essentially a seeker"; too independent, out-spoken and self-willed. The seeking is shown by the hooks on the letters; the independence is shown by the generally heavy bold strokes; the out-spokenness is shown by the open "a"s and "o"s; and self-will and strong will, shown by the down stroke of the small "y", are much the same.

Mars trine Saturn is a strong and favorable aspect since it gives self-confidence, determination, ambition, courage and a desire to rule; but is likely to be over-bearing and forceful. All these are found in this handwriting. Whether their general influence would be good or bad would depend entirely on what the ambitions of the person were, as well as what is indicated by the other aspects. In this case, the self-confidence is aggressive—heavy writing, long heavy crossings of the "t". The determination is shown in the heavy down strokes and can be put to either good or bad uses; ambition is shown by the long "t" crossings and can be high or low. A desire to rule is the same as the dominance shown in the down strokes. Courage is sometimes connected with the hooks at the end of the strokes—of which there are many—while Mars trine Saturn gives energy and determination. This takes the native to prominent positions, but he is seldom liked because his character is usually selfish and hard.

Mars trine Mercury gives enthusiasm, energy; makes the writer fluent, which is shown by the open "a"s and "o"s. Another way of describing this graphological indication is to say the person is talkative. We have seen that the long "t" crossings show enthusiasm and energy.

What the Ticks Mean

There are good qualities indicated by the chart and handwriting. Venus trine Uranus gives a taste for the fine arts; and the little "ticks" at the beginning of the "K" and "M" are an indication of artistic tastes. Do not confuse the "hook" and the "tick". The former is sharp and angular; the latter is rounded. In spite of the ambition, strong will and combativeness (Sun square Mars) this writer has a very keen intellect and is analytical. This is shown by the pointed bottoms and curved tops of the "m"s. Mercury in Gemini, well aspected by Mars also indicates artistic ability. This writer's artistic talent is probably mental rather than manual. Mercury in

FLYER'S WIFE WRITES

Dear Christina Dahl: My husband is an AAF flyer expecting to go on active duty . . . He wants me to live with his parents . . . I love them, have none of my own. They have no other children, live alone. My baby is due in five months . . . Will I be too much of a burden? My date, June 16, 1924 . . .

Linda D., Texas

By all means, do as that grand husband of yours suggests, and go to live with his parents. You are a sensitive Gemini person, and with current Saturn transiting the place of your Sun for the months just ahead, you might feel very lonely if you tried to live by yourself. Your place is with his parents who will love you as their own, and will be so happy to plan with you for the coming baby. You won't be a burden, dear girl; you will all help one another. Knowing you are safe will do plenty for the morale of that flyer of yours, who has a big job ahead of him. Help him to give of his best!

BLIND-DATE MARRIAGE

Dear Christina: I met my husband on a blind date and married him the next day . . . Now I regret my impulsiveness . . . He adores me, though . . . He is a sailor, now overseas somewhere in the Pacific . . . I want to get a divorce or annulment. Yet I'm afraid of hurting

Jim . . . I was born Nov. 2, 1927 . . . he, Dec. 1, 1922 . . .

Rita, California

A blind-date bride at less than sixteen years! You've kept your parents jumping all your life, haven't you, Rita, with that impulsive Mars and Sun in your fifth house square to the Moon? Don't try to keep this episode secret any longer; child. Better come clean, tell your parents the whole story and let them help you get the annulment. Both you and the boy will later find happiness with someone else, when you are mature and know what you want from life and love. You have learned your lesson, haven't you, Rita? Use some of that excess energy of yours doing Nurse's Aid work. Later, when you have the required school credits, you might consider nursing as a profession. Good luck to you, dear.

ARIES AND CANCER

Dear Miss Dahl: The wife and I have been married over ten years. We have two fine children—they make things more endurable. Somehow, we never can understand each other, always seem to be at cross purposes. She hates to stay home, dislikes domestic life, is very active in clubs. I love my own fireside, hate to be dragged out to affairs when I come home tired from the war plant. I was born July 1, 1912; she, Mar. 29, 1913.

R. E. D., Illinois

Yours is a very typical Aries-wife and Cancer-husband problem, Mr. D. The trouble with your wife is that she wants to make an Aries husband out of a Cancer man; and the trouble with you is you want to make a Cancer woman out of an Aries wife! You are both a bit stubborn, and each refuses to see the other's side. Don't try to change each other; just try to meet one another at the half-way point. You set the example, Mr. D. For instance, go with her cheerfully, without the usual grumbling, to a few of her social functions; and she may reciprocate by tak-

VENUS AND YOUR SIGN

By JOHN BOONE ROMISER

Love conquers all things; let us yield to love.—Virgil.

The glamorous planet Venus pilgrimages through the Signs Capricorn, Aquarius, and Pisces during February and March. Her luminous vibrations set off sparks to which your emotions respond readily. Here is the message that Venus signals to you.

Love can sun the realms of night.
—Schiller

For Aries: The planetary vibrations signify an approaching cycle of popularity, romance, happiness and pleasure. Do your utmost to take advantage of every social opportunity and make yourself the center of attraction by wearing new clothes, going to parties or entertaining business associates at home.

Start the ball rolling and everybody will be glad to join the merriment. Unexpected joy may fill your heart and give you reason to anticipate a happy future.

Love grants in a moment
What toil can hardly achieve in age.
—Goethe

For Taurus: The planetary pattern shows agreeable and magnetizing news from someone you love making you feel happier and more ardent. All at once you will become keenly aware of the pleasant side of life enabling you to attract new friends and acquaintances. These will be ready to please you and some may be of benefit in a material way by helping you to achieve your wishes. Romance may culminate in an engagement or marriage.

Love's a thing that is never out of season.
—B. Cornwall

For Gemini: According to the ephemeris there are favorable influences for romance with someone with whom you work. You may be buoyantly happy because of reciprocated affection or deep sympathy and tenderness between you and your beloved. Express your feelings sincerely and your ardor will be reciprocated.

Think of a surprise gift with which you can celebrate a mutual anniversary. When all else fails love saves.

—A. K. Green

For Cancer: The cosmic rays indicate that you have the imagination and wealth of ideas to sustain your romantic ambitions. Your future looks bright while romance is under the best possible aura.

Surprising and unusual gifts may come from friends who admire you and who are in sympathy with your romantic aspirations.

During this cycle the colors violet and yellow hold special vibratory magnetism for you.

The heart has its reasons which reason knows not.
—French Proverb

For Leo: The planetary forces may bring back the thrill of a former friendship through an invitation to a club luncheon. Do not resist change. Developments should be truly glamorous. Rely on your intuitions and instincts to help you win what you want, and to bring the glow of romantic fulfillment into your conscientiousness.

Use your ingenuity to guide you, and to make decisions about love. Forget past failures. Keep your romance in shining array.

Love is the fulfilling of the law.
—Romans, XIII. 10.

For Virgo: The astrological indications show the successful results of the various problems with which you are confronted. Your occupational difficulties may be solved through an offer of a government job.

Buy new clothes, attend to your hair and face, and make sure that you are so well groomed that you make a good impression on those who count. If you look prosperous you may be given special attention. Romance is more satisfying when backed by good fortune.

If you wish to be loved, love.

Seneca

For Libra: The cosmic scroll shows that you may get the inspiration and urge to create something of permanent value, but keep everything open and aboveboard. Avoid secrets. With the cooperation of the person you love best, you should be able to set a firm foundation for future income.

Plan, organize, and do things methodically with an idea in mind that economic security is as vital to success of romance as is good health and emotional balance.

To love for the sake of being loved is human, but to love for the sake of loving is angelic.

—Lamartine

For Scorpio: You might be pleasantly surprised at the new outlook you have

SAGITTARIUS

LOOKING AHEAD

For Those Born November 22-December 21

ASTROLOGERS have labelled Sagittarius a double-bodied sign. Psychologists would use the term "split personality." The quality that is known to exist comes from dividing the mental attention between the practical, philosophical and the material expression between the worldly and heavenly planes of being.

A particular type of cellular brain formation makes possible the functioning of the mentality on the material and celestial levels of thought. There is a shuttling back and forth of mental interests and you, as a native of Sagittarius are often inclined to live as much or more in the future as in the present. We find a reversal of this inclination in the Cancer native, whose mind continues to return to the past, recalling past occurrences and conditions in exact detail. This tendency of you Sagittarians to look into the future gives you a strong interest in prophecy and anything of a prophetic nature.

This often takes the form of speculating in futures because it is a game with IRENE DUNNE, famous motion picture actress, was born on December 20, 1904. It was, on the whole, under rather auspicious planetary configurations that she was born. Sun was 28° in Sagittarius. She has several aspects which give her charm, versatility, inspiration, magnetism, and dynamic impulsiveness. She is spontaneous and headstrong, yet to what magnificent heights of achievement does her "fury of endeavor" bring her?

At the head of her powerful aspects is the conjunction between the Sun and Uranus. The Sun was culminating in a Fire Sign and Uranus was just entering Capricorn, an Earth Sign. This gives her fire and vim, as well as stability. She can combine extreme volatility with serious foresight.

Her acting shows personality and poise. She is self-confident. She is beautiful, it is true, but there is more than you to guess what is going to happen. Fortunately you of this sign usually show a high degree of accuracy in your predictions.

All this brings us to your prospects during the year ahead, for your prophetic nature can stand you in good stead during this eventful year.

The year 1944 is a destiny year—number nine—according to numerology, a year which holds events which will have a vital bearing upon every department of your life. Nor is this confined to those of your sign. World-shaking events will change the patterns of all of our lives.

This is of particular importance to you prophetic Sagittarians. First, it would be well to apply yourself assiduously to your own plans for the year after you have given yourself a thorough physical, mental and spiritual check-up and analysis. Try to achieve a harmony of these combined forces within you. This will enable you to manage the extreme duality of conditions you are destined to encounter during the year ahead.

The duality of your nature referred to earlier has a tendency to govern to a degree the conditions around you,

LOOKING AHEAD

For Those Born December 22-January 19

THE year 1944 can become a pivotal one for your affairs and progress. Decisions which you must make following January 16th, February 12th and 21st, March 6th and from June 20th to July 4th will to a great degree determine the course of your life during the last half of the year.

Watch the above dates carefully and weigh each decision thoroughly before you act.

The year in general is divided into two trends in which your own ruling planet Saturn is the chief indicator, and this star role of Saturn is true not only of your own sign but the affairs of the entire world.

The factor of "time" is always identified with Capricorn, either time consumption for a given accomplishment or the timing of events and conditions. The conjunction of Mars and Saturn on March 6th, 1944, is a timing factor in the war issue and signifies a change in the military program and world conditions. This configuration will have a meaning for every person on earth.

period for you Capricorn people is from January 1st to June 20th. During this month it is advisable to "make hay while the sun shines" and accomplish as much as possible. A few possibilities lie in romance, marriage, property purchases, building or beginning a new business—within war-time limitations, of course.

Your success, along with the temporary boom in agriculture, commerce and heavy industry, could lead you to a feeling of false security and thus too much toward wide and flimsy expansion and extravagance. But as viewed from a survey of planetary tides, we suggest cashing in on temporary gains and thus protecting yourself against the recessionary tendencies which will develop later.

You can safely and accurately time the change of trend as due in the period following June 20th, for at this time Saturn leaves Gemini and enters your opposite sign Cancer, the most sensitive point in the U. This is said with no intention to develop a "scare" psychology, but merely to cite the planetary positions and indications. The recession need not be too violent, but a

The Awakener

By LOIS HAINES

"FOR the past year my horoscope says change, but there hasn't been any change," complains a friend. "I have Uranus in my chart now, but nothing has happened. What is the matter?"

The matter is, that my friend does not understand what this "change" really means. For about a year, at various intervals, Uranus had been making a transit opposite the position of Mercury in her chart. When she first saw it, she probably thought: "Oh, goody, here comes Uranus and I'll have a change. Next week everything will be entirely different."

Seldom does anything happen just that way. Only an accident, or some tragic misfortune could make such a radical alteration in the life so suddenly. Usually when changes take place in an individual's life they do so in a transitional way, and over a period of time. Uranus simply provides the spark which sets the transition in motion.

Uranus often is misunderstood because from it one expects changes of circumstances, when often the change taking place is working from within—in a change of ideas, new conceptions, new ideals, new aims. Thus Uranus is really an awakener. Often it creates dissatisfactions with the life, and the individual wants change. But, if you are discontented with your life, it may be necessary for you to begin by changing something within yourself before your life will change for you.

Change is the law of life. In fact, nothing ever stands still. The body itself constantly renews itself. If we understood the principles of this renewal of nature we could forestall the day when the organs and glands would wear out and become inequal to this constant renewal.

Our minds are always capable of change and progress. But if we do nothing to develop our talents and our understanding of people and of life, we let ourselves fall into a humdrum routine—we don't live, we just exist.

Then comes along Uranus and gives a shake and says: "Say, surely you're not content with this sort of negative existence, are you?" Then we feel restless, and dissatisfied, and wonder what we want and what to do. Gradually we awaken to the fact that our lives are dull and that we ought to do something about it. What we do, of course, determines how great a change will take place.

Sometimes circumstances does provide the change. Sometimes (especially when the transit forms an opposition to some planet in the horoscope) we are estranged from former associates or situations. Uranus comes along and says: "you have finished this phase of your life, be prepared for something new." Or it may say: "It is time for you to develop new trails."

Uranus is the lover of freedom. "Let me work things out in my own way," he says. And when we see this in another person's chart, we may as well be patient with him, and let him find himself. There was the father who, the last daughter having married and left home, apparently went hay-wire. He left home, too. There was nothing wrong; he just wanted to be completely free. He had shouldered the family responsibilities, but when they were lifted, he wanted a taste of what life would be like if he could just come and go as he pleased. So he left home. When Uranus finished its transit he returned home to his patient wife and resumed life again as before. Only, it was not as before either, for he had become a different personality. He had found new interests that made his life richer.

Sometimes Uranus is a rebel. "I'll make my own rules," says the non-conformist. Well, if he is intelligent he may make good rules, but if he is not intellectual, he is apt to make bad ones. And then he does the wrong things, and pretty soon Saturn comes along and punishes him. The highly developed Uranus individual obeys laws because he understands that life requires organization and that only by having rules and regulations can we have good organization. Organization requires cooperation.

One must understand the distinction between being unconventional and informal. Uranus is usually informal,

YOUR VICTORY PATTERN

By GEORGE M. MILLER

DO you aspire to leadership? Do you seek distinction and high honor? If so, create a state of mind that whether you are young, middle-aged, or advancing in years, you can turn defeat into success through a practical idea, a courageous act, or a stroke of self-made fortune, plus full measure of diligence.

Be what you want to be by realizing the invincible truth that within you is reflected the power of the universe, limited only by your use of this force. Astrology demonstrates how you can channelize your power, direct your mind and organize your life so that you are able to attain victory even when confronted by the greatest of difficulties.

Open the doorway to knowledge and accomplishment by developing your victory assets. The following Kabalistic interpretations should help you attain the things you desire.

ARIES: Concentrate on the development of your material assets for the security of your own future. Do not be disappointed if things move slowly. What you do now may bring you honor and distinction later, after arduous effort and resolute determination. If you can afford it, set aside a bequest for someone who is loyal to you.

Success days in February and March: (February—6, 15, 24) (March—7, 16, 25.)

TAURUS: Personal associations have important influence on your affairs during February and March. Business matters carried out in a casual, friendly atmosphere will get you more than if you are too aggressive. You should be well repaid for any courtesies you extend to others, and you feel free to ask favors with the expectation of reciprocity.

Success days in February and March: (February—4, 13, 22) (March—5, 14, 23).

GEMINI: Be ready for an opportunity for advancement that presents itself. When you have the enthusiasm to overcome obstacles, most people will follow you willingly. Start a new enterprise, but make sure that you are working on realistic basis rather than on the assumption that you can turn a second-rate venture into a first-class proposition.

Success days in February and March: (February—7, 16, 25) (March—8, 17, 26).

CANCER: The problems with which you are confronted at present should not present any difficulty. Solve them by drawing your own conclusions based on knowledge of the facts rather than the untried opinions of others. Make and discuss plans. Express your thoughts whenever you consider it necessary, but do not give unsolicited advice.

Success days in February and March: (February—1, 10, 19, 28) (March—2, 11, 20, 29).

LEO: Figure out what needs to be repaired at home and at your business. But do not consider all your possessions old-fashioned or your used furniture as worthless antiques. Merely look for the weak points in your organization and strengthen them. Be tactful to your family to avoid disagreements. Pay for minor courtesies with compliments.

Success days in February and March: (February—9, 18, 27) (March—1, 10, 19, 28).

VIRGO: There are so many delightful ways to celebrate good fortune. Travel can be a favorite pastime, as well as correspondence with people you admire. Since a general state of cosmic harmony dominates your affairs, measure your blessings according to the existent times and share your good luck with friends who are deserving. Begin a savings account.

Success days in February and March: (February—7, 16, 25) (March—8, 17, 26).

LIBRA: There are cheery prospects available to you through social contacts. You will be a guest at parties where you will meet clever and well-informed people. An old friend who has always been your well-wisher shall come back into your life. You will find yourself substituting practical knowledge in place of confused inspirations as reality becomes a more dominant issue.

Success days in February and March: (February—4, 13, 22) (March—5, 14, 23).

SCORPIO: You are scheduled to have an important discussion with relatives during which you will have to straighten out some irritations that have been causing resentment and arguments. You may take a short trip and spend quite a sizeable sum on new clothes.

ARIES – Dec. - Jan.

For Those Born March 21 - April 19

★ The presents you buy will be pleasing to others this season.

THE MENTAL

period which was promised for you Arians as beginning on November 23 continues through the first three weeks of December. This is also a very good social period and one in which at least short trips are indicated. Not so much a time for grueling study as for learning from others, especially new acquaintances and passing your own knowledge on to them. All this should give you a very good pre-holiday season and put you in tune with your friends and associates. Your taste is excellent and the Christmas shopping you do for others should please them even though wartime restrictions will naturally limit your choice. Try to meet new people of the right sort and you will be preparing yourself for a better year ahead.

The turn-of-the-year cycle which begins on December 22 and endures through January 19 brings good Sun influences to bear on you through your tenth house. There is every reason to believe that you will enjoy the favor of those in power, and you could apply this influence to your business or employment problems. This is especially appropriate with the beginning of the new year and gives you at least a slight advantage over rivals who are natives of other signs. If you are blessed with living parents, you should make every endeavor to see them during this period for their influence will help you.

Things to guard against during this period are love of power, a domineering attitude and false pride. This is especially true during the critical aspects of the Sun and of your ruling Mars.

January 20 begins a cycle of lofty ambitions and warm friendships. You will read more about this in our February-March issue.

Aries Daily Guide For December

Wed. Dec. 1: A neutral morning is followed by an afternoon and evening in which you are tops with your friends and associates. You can accomplish just about anything you try by enlisting their help. Extra-good for dealing with children.

Thurs. Dec. 2: An excellent day in much the same way as yesterday. Friendships are pure gold now. Friends can help you to realize your dream or ambition if you'll only get out among them and ask them to help you with influence or advice.

Fri. Dec. 3: Some strength holds over from good early-morning aspects, stimulating your inventive faculties. Not good for sales, visiting or contacts.

Sat. Dec. 4: This could be a dangerous day. Be sure you hold your temper and avoid unjust suspicions. Spend as much as you can of this alone. Keep quiet.

Sun. Dec. 5: Too variable for visiting or associating with those who are important to you. You're inclined to boast and talk loudly. Don't do it.

Mon. Dec. 6: A very good day. You're right in the center of things and can persuade others to your way of thinking. Use this sincerely and honestly and you'll have your way with very little friction. Good for sales, visits.

Tues. Dec. 7: Morning and early afternoon are good for catering to the public, adjusting employment matters or dealing with relatives. Routine thereafter.

Wed. Dec. 8: No major aspects. Stick to safe, ordinary routine.

Thurs. Dec. 9: Jupiter squares your second-house Moon this morning. Not dangerous, but it's a weak day and you should start nothing which conflicts strongly with the interests of others. Look for bitter opposition if you do.

Fri. Dec. 10: A good early morning, with your mind working soundly at top speed. Good for adjustments, travel, changes of all kinds. You can think your way out of the rut now if you're in one. You're a good companion for learned people.

Sat. Dec. 11: A doubtful morning and noon hour, so use care in your relations with others during that time. Evening finds you brilliant and popular. Get out among those who are important to you if you can. Good for meeting new people.

Sun. Dec. 12: A variable Sunday. Be especially diplomatic at home, but guard the morals of your family. Not good for romance or dealing with the other sex.

Mon. Dec. 13: There is no strength from space to back you in financial matters today, so avoid signing papers or making important financial decisions.

TAURUS - Dec. - Jan.

For Those Born April 20 - May 20

★ Push any pending legal affairs during the first three weeks in December.

THE financial cycle which began for you Taureans late in November and which carries on through December 21 is particularly adapted to your sign characteristics. It is a time for attending to financial matters, especially those pertaining to partnership or joint-property affairs. Many Taureans will make advantageous alliances, and this can apply to marriage as well as business mergers. There is some chance of inheritance or the untangling of legal difficulties pertaining to legacies if this applies to your circumstances. This is also a good time to attain some local honor such as leadership in your group, lodge or fraternity. Good publicity may come to you through your partner or mate.

From December 22 to January 19 inclusive constitutes a period of mental advancement and inspiring social life. This makes it a grand period for the holidays, especially as pleasure travel within wartime restrictions is indicated. You vibrate well with new people and should find some change in your surroundings. You learn easily now either through books or associating with others. An exchange of ideas between you and your most learned friends will develop your mind and benefit those with whom you associate. All types of church or educational work are well-aspected for you. You can make this a fine holiday period and start the new year with stored-up energy and inspiration.

Your chief danger lies in setting your marks too high, day-dreaming and succumbing to discontent when these impossible goals are not achieved. Keep your face to the Sun but keep your feet on the ground.

January 20 could start you on the road to new honor and prestige. Watch for more on this in our February-March issue.

GEMINI - Dec. - Jan.

For Those Born May 21 - June 20

★ You are popular with both sexes during December.

THE CYCLE OF popularity and partnership endeavors which began for you Gemini folk on November 23 carries through the first three weeks of December, offering success through new attachments or improved relations in existing partnerships and alliances. This is a good time for signing new contracts or for widening your social circle. Romance is well-aspected for those of you who are in the courtship stage and the married ones among you may revive old romantic feelings to the advantage of both parties. You are popular with both sexes, so your pre-holiday social season should be both pleasant and inspiring. Don't form any new attachments or alliances during the critical hours around bad Sun aspects as these would probably end in near-disaster with you as the victim of some unscrupulous person.

December 22 opens up a cycle which is especially appropriate for the beginning of the new year. It is an almost purely financial one and is good for all kinds of adjustments and agreements between business and marriage partners. If you have been having financial difficulties with your mate, a member of your family or those allied with you in business, this is the time to do something about it. This should be a good holiday season if you can spend it with known friends or family members. You are advised against any kind of dissipation or anything which involves personal risk.

The above applies especially to the hours which contain critical aspects of the Sun or Mercury, your ruler. You are subject to accidents and physical upsets during such hours.

CANCER – Dec. - Jan.

For Those Born June 21 - July 22

★ Avoid strenuous activities, as you tire easily now.

THE FIRST three weeks of December are a continuation of the period which began for you Cancerians on Nov. 23. There is little chance of gain through aggressive action or money-making schemes during this period. Your chief success channels lie in pleasing others and this applies to charitable work as well as to your regular employment. Since the Sun is now in your cadent sixth house, you should avoid over-work or anything which might tax your mind or body too severely. Employment matters may be adjusted if you will use diplomacy and show your willingness to hold up your end of the bargain. Civic and patriotic work are both well-aspected and will ultimately win for you. Try to do something to further our war effort.

Embracing as it does both Christmas and the New Year holidays, the period which begins on December 22 is a fortunate one for you because of your social popularity and your ability to attract the right people either in business, romance or purely social activities. If the achievement of your ambitions involves making new partners or forming new alliances, this cycle is one which promises success. Think ahead now, planning for the year before you and using these good influences to put your plans into execution. If difficulties arise, depend on arbitration rather than force and aggressive conduct.

Postpone any pending important contact if the appointment falls during critical aspects of either the Sun or Moon. Read the Aspectarian carefully and choose good hours in which to sign contracts or agreements.

January 20 begins an almost purely financial period although some distinction or honor is promised. More about this in our next issue.

VIRGO - Dec. - Jan.

For Those Born August 23 - September 22

★ A serene and happy home life is promised for the first three weeks in December.

THE GOOD financial period which began for you Virgoans during the last days of November follows through the first three weeks of December, bringing a chance to secure your financial position in some way if you keep attuned to the cosmic forces about you. Home life should be serene, with family members helping you in all that you undertake. You should be able to expend your Christmas funds wisely and arrange such matters with the family to good advantage. If there is any opportunity to invest for the future during this period you should do so with confidence. Land, real estate and all kinds of tangible property deals should prosper for you—and don't forget that war bonds are the very essence of our own land. Buy all of them you can!

The period from December 22 to January 19, inclusive, is your gay time of the year—which makes it a grand one for the holidays. Within war-time limitations, you'll enjoy yourself to the fullest and emerge from the period strengthened mentally and spiritually. This is the "fortunate" period of the year for you and it is to be hoped that you can take advantage of it.

LIBRA – Dec. - Jan.

For Those Born September 23 - October 22

★ Find new surroundings even if you must walk to do it.

THE FIRST three weeks of December are part of a very good mental cycle which began for you Librans on November 23. Your imagination soars now, and you have a strong inventive streak in your thought processes. You are ambitious to better yourself and this can cause you to evolve new methods of work that will give you something of a short cut to success. This is a very good time to visit relatives, or to travel anywhere that does not conflict with the present emphasis on transportation-saving. You'll probably crave new surroundings, so try to get out of your immediate environments, even if it's only a few miles. There is a tendency on your part to uplift the minds of others now, and this is good. Just don't associate with inferior people nor "cast your pearls before swine."

The period from December 22 to January 19, inclusive, is one of good financial portent. This is especially true of any investments designed to safeguard your financial future and that of family members. Any investments in real estate or tangible property are well aspected at this time, either for yourself or by you on behalf of your mate, parents or children. If you are blessed with living parents, try to spend some of this period with them, for their influence on you is particularly favorable just now. Coming as it does at the turn of the year, this cycle could see you well started on a new year of advancement. It's a good time to sign agreements for the year ahead and really get going.

SCORPIO — Dec. - Jan.

For Those Born October 23 - November 21

★ If you are in defense work, you should advance yourself during December.

THE PERIOD OF

earnest work and detail which began for you Scorpios on November 23 extends through December 21, bringing new responsibilities and heavier tasks for you if you are at all in line for them. This is an especially important cycle for those of you who are engaged in defense work, or who are seeking such connections. If you should enter military service at this time the chances of promotion and honor would be very good, or if you are already so engaged you should enjoy advancement. All of this comes through your own willingness to "give out" and take the responsibilities of others rather than through any "pull" exerted on your behalf by higher-ups. You are inclined to be generous, which fits in well with the pre-holiday season.

From December 22 through January 19 finds you well able to solve the problems inherent to the task of beginning a new year because your mind is at its peak. You are resourceful and imaginative, and can execute plans as well as make them now. Relatives may enter strongly into your plans and affairs at this time, and you'll be able to get their cooperation in anything you undertake. There should be a rich give-and-take of knowledge, thought and ideas between you and others. You not only think straight and learn easily, but you have the ability to teach and inspire others. For this reason, you should choose companions who can both learn from you and teach you.

January 20 brings you into a fine financial cycle, wherein tangible investments prosper for you. More of this in our February-March issue as the period extends well into February.

CAPRICORN - Dec. - Jan.

For Those Born December 22 - January 19

★ A visit with an astrologer would pay you during the first days of December.

THE QUIET, meditative and psychic period which began for you Capricornians on November 23 extends through the first three weeks of December, bringing some rather odd but not wholly unpleasant possibilities with it. It is more a time for study and quiet, even secluded work than for mixing with others, although visits with an astrologer or some other occult-minded person would benefit you. You are able to see through the motives of those around you now, and could analyze your position in life to good advantage. You want security for yourself and your family now, and could enter some employment that would probably afford it if this is at all indicated by your circumstances. Study occultism and philosophy, try some experiments with ESP. See Miss Dahl's column in this publication.

AQUARIUS — Dec. - Jan.

For Those Born January 20 - February 18

★ Study the ancient philosophers during December.

THE "friendship" cycle to which you Aquarians were introduced during the last week in November endures through Dec. 21, and it is safe to say that you will emerge from the period a more worthwhile person than when you entered it. Your ambitions and desires are now lifted far above their usual plane. You lean toward the higher, more spiritual things of life, and you thus attract the very best people around you. This is a time to make new friends, as you will instinctively choose those who appreciate your higher nature. The period is likely to bring little in the way of monetary gains, but you lay the groundwork for success through your associations and through studying the ancient philosophers and subjects that refine and uplift you. This is a good period for Aquarian employees because they earn the respect of their superiors.

On December 21, you enter a period which might seem to be inappropriate to the season, as it is one of quiet study and at least semi-seclusion. Your mind is psychic and you are retiring by disposition. Thus a hilarious holiday is not recommended, rest, study and relaxation being recommended instead. You can, however, enjoy the association of quiet and serious people and get a great deal of inspiration through your relations with them. Then, too, your mind works clearly on your problems, so it is a good time to plan out the year ahead for you.

January 20 begins a cycle of good recognition and some leadership in your chosen work or circle. You'll learn more about this in our next issue as the period carries on into February.

Aquarius Daily Guide For December

Wed. Dec. 1: You start the month with good influences operating to your first-house Moon, which means you're the center of things and that the trend of the hour is to honor and elevate you. You can get recognition and publicity, or you can better your conditions through contacts made successful by your popularity.

Thurs. Dec. 2: Another good one, only more so. Now get going on anything in the way of jobs or prestige that you couldn't finish yesterday. If you can't make forward strides in these two days you're in the wrong environment!

Fri. Dec. 3: Daylight and evening hours hold no helpful aspects. Stick to routine matters, start nothing involving strong rivalry. You'd probably lose.

Sat. Dec. 4: Another trying day. Meet opposition and obstacles philosophically, rest on your oars and wait for a better day. Shun spats with female relatives.

Sun. Dec. 5: Variable; too much so for important visits or contacts. Make this a quiet, restful Sunday. Study, read and relax. Avoid travel if possible.

Mon. Dec. 6: Better! Now you can make those changes and adjustments you wanted to make yesterday. Your judgment is sound. Seek out those who are able to appreciate your intelligence, for your mind is working keenly today.

Tues. Dec. 7: Another good one. Attend to any pending financial matters concerning the home, family or your living conditions. Single Aquarians find romance.

Mon. Dec. 20: Probably your best mental day of the month. Your mind is working at its peak. You are inventive and creative. Use your brain now.

Tues. Dec. 21: A negative morning is followed by a promising afternoon. Good for adjustments or changes in any department of your life. Act.

Wed. Dec. 22: Early morning brings popularity. There is some tendency to defer to you and recognize your ability on the part of those around you.

Thurs. Dec. 23: Afternoon and evening are much like yesterday. Women especially favor you and some noted or learned woman could help you now.

Fri. Dec. 24: Largely negative. Depend on yourself alone as your friends and associates are inclined to disappoint you. This could amount to disloyalty.

Sat. Dec. 25: No major aspects during waking hours. Moon position promises warm friendship so this should be an inspiring holiday for you.

Sun. Dec. 26: Variable, but morning promises spiritual development because you are capable of grasping religious and occult truths.

Mon. Dec. 27: Neutral. Moon position suggests quiet work and planning.

Tues. Dec. 28: Probably your best December day. You are popular and your personality is forceful. You could get good publicity or better your job.

Wed. Dec. 29: Neutral as to major aspects but the Moon in your first house stresses your importance and puts you out ahead in some way. Mix around.

Thurs. Dec. 30: A rather hectic day as regards your business, profession or employment. Try for no big gains as obstacles and opposition are threatened.

Fri. Dec. 31: Another trying day. Avoid rivalry and contests of any kind as you are cosmically weak. Stick to routine and unimportant matters.

PISCES - Dec. - Jan.

For Those Born February 19 - March 20

★ If you have living parents, try to visit them during December.

THE "PUBLIC" cycle which began for you Pisceans on November 23 extends through the first three weeks of December, bringing you out into the center of things and tending to honor you in some way. You deserve well of your friends and the public now because your moral standards are unusually high and your inner dignity gives you a firmness which is often lacking in your nature. Get going on anything which relates you to the public, or which depends on the impression you make on others. If you have living parents, see as much of them as possible and take their advice for their influence on you is highly favorable. Those of you who seek public office or work connected with the war program should achieve such aims.

On December 22, you enter a period of warm friendships and association with inspiring and refined people. Your own aims and ambitions are lofty and your tastes refined. Don't waste this period in the company of crass and unappreciative people. Your own honesty of purpose recommends that you deal only with those showing like trends, for you would be victimized by those who are less sincere than yourself. This is a good time to associate with your superiors if you are employed by others, for you will now earn their respect and gratitude. There is every indication that some long cherished hope or ambition will be realized through the help of your parents or the boss.

January 20 brings you into a cycle of psychic thought, occult study and quiet endeavors, but you'll read more of this in our February-March issue.

MOUNTBATTEN-MacARTHUR

factor for the appointment of Lord Mountbatten is progressed Sun in the commanding sign Leo in his chart, moving toward a sextile contact with Moon conjunct Pluto. Usually there is one time in each man's life when he arrives at his apex of attainment and if the English military leader has such an expression in his subconscious mentality, it is timed, according to his chart, to blossom forth during the year 1944.

The transit of Jupiter is moving over the area of Leo occupied by progressed Sun and this helps to excite the Sun-Moon progression. The Sun indicates official position and authority while the Moon sponsors sea travel and marine activities. The unfortunate part is the Uranus transit hovering near South Node and joined by Mars during 1944. They form a conjunction on the 16th of January, inciting an opposition to the place of Uranus in his chart. This does not speak for good results.

The foregoing is mentioned as the negative side of the planetary set-up governing Lord Mountbatten's command of the Allied forces in the Burma sector. There are, however, some fair indications of success among which is the position of Neptune in the Mountbatten chart. It is 27 degrees Gemini—a strongly accentuated area of the zodiac because here we locate:

Mars in the tenth or official house of President Roosevelt's chart.

Jupiter in the chart of President Vargas of Brazil.

Moon in the Jap New Imperial Constitution chart.

Neptune in the seventh house of war of Hirohito's chart.

Ninth cusp of the November 11, 1918 Armistice chart.

Ninth cusp of Hitler's chart.

This area of the Zodiac will be transited by Saturn May 1st to June 19th, 1944. Notable events are scheduled to take place during this period. These events will vitally touch the charts listed above.

This marks a disturbed period for the charts of the leaders of Japan. The solar eclipse of January 25, 1944 occurs in the locality and is related to the occupied area of Burma. Progressed Mercury in the Mountbatten chart hovers over the official sector of Burma, according to geographic Astrology.

The positions of Jupiter conjunction Uranus in Sagittarius in the Mountbatten chart converge at the locality ascendant of Tokyo, which is encouraging for the Allied effort under Mountbatten's leadership.

The month of January 1944 holds impressive planetary positions unfavorable to Japan, especially the Mars-Uranus conjunction of the 16th and the days that follow. Another threatening period for Japan is that following February 12, when Uranus goes direct. The next planetary high spots affecting the Nippons are March 6 at the time of the Mars-Saturn conjunction and the months of May, June and July following the transit of Saturn.

One interesting international phase of the Mountbatten chart is the series of connections which exist between it and that of President Roosevelt. A favorable factor of a cooperative nature is the progressed Mercury-Jupiter that has been largely accountable for our global activity. Other contacts are more negative and less fortunate. The conclusion is reached that while the Allied forces under Mountbatten will win the struggle on that section of the globe, the British leader represents something of a risk from an astrological standpoint.

It is quite natural to compare the chart of General Douglas MacArthur with that of Lord Mountbatten, who has been given the authority which most people expected would be given to the American general.

The MacArthur chart shows considerable forward pressure during the months immediately ahead. Obstacles are shown, but these largely apply to the limitations placed upon him by higher authority. Yet, viewed in its most critical light, the MacArthur chart still shows a higher success rating than that of Lord Mountbatten. This has been borne out by the past accomplishments of the two military leaders.

General MacArthur's chart shows an element of "luck" where heavy responsibility and demand for superior management are involved. He is in 1944 at the highest peak of his career and is fully entitled to support and responsibility.

Progressed Sun moves over the place of radix Saturn, which makes him capable of taking on new responsibilities. Mars in his chart, conjunction Pluto, is in the same locale as the ascendant of the Jap Constitutional chart. This is the ideal indication that General MacArthur is the man of the hour, the man to march on Tokyo.

It will be interesting to observe General MacArthur during January, February and March. The January 25th eclipse occurs at the place of the Sun at his birth, and this is a high-voltage eclipse. The Moon in the MacArthur chart is at the locality of progressed Mercury and Jupiter in the U. S. chart, which assures that the general will always be a military asset to his country.

late Spring of the year, especially if you are interested in something designed to fill modern needs. A job change may double your income. A relative from another country might be the source of much happiness. A change of residence is possible for you this year. Act and feel as though you believe each moment is the one that is going to bring the success for which you have hoped. Success thoughts are always powerful weapons in the battle for achievement.

Scorpio

The ambition to accumulate wealth is uppermost in your mind. You can do much through your own effort in making headway before Decoration Day. Put your shoulder to the wheel of endeavor and give steady application toward the things you want. Don't be surprised if Dr. Dan Cupid leaves his calling card at your door. He can come unexpectedly and scurry away just as fast. If your own emotional life is settled, you may want to act as matchmaker to further the romantic work of someone else. The vibrations are admirable for physical, mental, and spiritual adventure. Intellectually and psychologically you can travel at an incredible speed, and what is more, you will have a safe journey.

Sagittarius

With a word here and there, you may twist and turn opinion any way that suits you. Your best results will be achieved as a booster for the occult subjects and religion. Also you may become interested in psychiatry, and in helping those who are depressed or grieved. The abundance of your spiritual perception will be sufficient for almost any demand made on it. Your intuitions will reveal the sublimity of universal truths to you, and in turn you will interpret them for those who lack your psychic gift. Give your mind a chance to work in unity with the cosmic vibratory rhythm. This is a magnificent and magnetic cycle that is conducive to amazing success.

Capricorn

Make new social and business contacts by attending to the small details of hospitality that increase all round domestic contentment. Entertain your friends, and write letters to those who are away. Reciprocate for every act of courtesy and gracious sincerity. Do not sign any contracts or other important documents until you are assured by your own lawyer that there is nothing in them to cause complications later. Real estate transactions are likely to prove more profitable. Romance is under good auspices all year.

Aquarius

Your mind will be brilliant and your personality shine, giving you a powerful magnetic influence over others. You will be inspired and inspiring, dynamic, and efficient. Your viewpoint will be reasonable and specific, your knowledge reliable, and your acumen authoritative. This will enable you to solve your most difficult problems with what may seem like lightning speed, but is really the result of trained and experienced talent. This year you will find it possible to use many of your inherent traits. What pleasure it is to emerge from obscurity.

Pisces

If words were as palpable as gems, you would be a millionaire over many times this year, since you will have enough words at your command to fill a book of this size many times over. But be sure that what you say will not hurt anyone, and try not to be hasty in finding fault with your lifemate. Also don't be critical of your family, no matter what reason you have to be irritated with the moods or manners of a special relative. Keep your mind and your personal papers in a safe place. Also don't allow your tax bills and insurance policies to lapse. Try not to lend or borrow cash, and don't get involved with anyone who peddles gossip. Public esteem will be to your advantage.

portend conferences and discussions directed toward peace.

The Capricorn new Moon of December 26, 1943 covers the chief portion of this strikingly exciting month of January, with the President strongly in the limelight. Mr. Roosevelt's controversial Virgo-Pisces chart angle rises at Washington, indicating a period of strife and disunity.

Taken as a whole, the period of December and January could not be called a serene one. While the general trend is toward a cessation of conflict in Europe, disturbing elements threaten confusion and lack of unity on the home-front, with some prominent persons eliminated from the national and international arena of activity. There is little to indicate any change in our financial situation. Spending continues on a vast scale with inflation threatening us as a nation.

pleasure, many employers have installed radios, magazines, moving pictures and other facilities for amusement during meal times and rest periods.

Women at present are riding the crest of an astrological wave insofar as their finances are concerned, and nothing occurs at present to interfere with their industrial activities.

Saturn enters Cancer—Sign of detriment for this Planet—in June, 1944. This influence will not gain power of any significance until towards the end of 1944 as Saturn is a Planet whose negative characteristics take quite a while to manifest. The general tendency of this position will be that there will be less free money in circulation in the United States in 1944 and possibly indicates a greater management of money and income by the government.

For women this position of Saturn will not be too helpful with regard to their industrial activities. This should not be taken as meaning that the future for women in war work is dark, for such is by no means the case. It does mean, however, that women in industry should make whatever gains they can during the early part of 1944. After that, though there will be opportunity for women still, advancement will not be as easy as during the prior period—i.e. the period in which we are at present.

The passage of Saturn into Cancer is symbolic of the period after the war when men will once more take over many of the activities which they have abandoned, for Saturn is a Planet signifying men. Its position in Cancer, in opposition to Capricorn, increases male activity. And what is even more important is the fact that Cancer corresponds to the house of home-life. Saturn here tends to cause an increase in interest in domesticity and in plans for achieving it. It can easily cause some women to leave industry during 1944 for the sake of home or family.

Some working women are fearful lest they will sooner or later be removed from their jobs by the return of men to them. A consideration of this problem in all its aspects entails a little investigation of woman's astrological psychology as well as a consideration of some of the current transits bearing upon the situation.

All women, at all times, come under the special rule and protection of Venus and the Moon. At present, during the years 1942, 1943 and 1944, there are created in many women certain internal stresses due to the fact that many of the current zodiacal influences helping women in industry do not completely harmonize with the basic Venusian and Lunar traits possessed by all women.

A woman has a different type of mind from that of a man. Her intellectual power is as great, especially now when the stimulation of Venus, dispositor of Neptune in Libra square Uranus in Gemini, gives her the ability to learn any job that a man can learn. Nevertheless, her emotions and personal values are colored differently from those of a man and she has her own type of intellect—particularly where emotions are concerned.

The Moon and Venus give to women a greater emotional power and a greater concern over matters of romance, home and marriage. During the present time, when the influences aiding her in industry are so active, there is a tendency for many a woman to forget that she has needs that will never be satisfied by a job alone, even were the job guaranteed to her for life.

One other extremely important attribute of woman is the maternal instinct. Rarely is this completely absent from a woman. Uranus in Gemini causes currently among women—especially those employed by industry—a marked tendency to avoid any sort of tie that would interfere with their work. This is an influence leading to a certain desire for childlessness. Uranus is a barren Planet and Gemini is ruled by Mercury—a Planet not considered very fruitful.

The average woman aims at achieving love. And normal love means marriage and a home. Even during these days when work is the most important thing in many women's lives, they realize—due to the inescapable influence of the universal Venus and Moon working beneath the current transits—that they want to have husband and home. Some women want their jobs as well and hope to be able to work out methods whereby they may have both employment and normal home-life.

As has already been mentioned, the passage of Saturn into Cancer can very easily be the beginning of a series of transits and aspects which will, eventually, put many men into jobs now occupied by women. Of course this alone would not in itself cause any mass movement of women away from industry. But this Saturnian-Cancer influence of 1944 does indicate a strengthening of men's positions in industrial and business life.

In September, 1947, Neptune passes out of the first Decan of Libra and enters the second. This is quite significant because, as we have seen, the disposing of Neptune by Venus has had much to do with women in the war effort. When Neptune passes into the second Decan, it comes under the dispositorship of Uranus which is sub-ruler of that Decan of Libra. From that time on there will be fewer women in industry.

But even much earlier than that, the Saturnian-Cancer force during 1944 and 1945 will impel many towards marriage. Today there are influences acting leading women to marry even while working in industry. Their chances of successfully running a home and having a job at the same time will be increased after Saturn changes its sign in 1944.

Uranus does not leave Gemini until 1948. This passage of Uranus away from our country's Sign could very easily mark an important advance in the changeover of American industry from war to peace production. During the same period in 1948, Jupiter is in opposition to Gemini. This indicates careful financial and social planning by those governing the United States at that time.

Some of the conditions and influences making women prominent in industry at the present time will be modified, and the displacement of some women is unavoidable. But by the time the change of Decan for Neptune occurs in 1947, many women will have adopted a new psychology leading them to prefer being home-makers rather than welders or riveters.

On the other hand, Saturn passing through Gemini and the other current positions already mentioned have changed American industrial psychology permanently. There will be a place for any woman in industry even after the war is over if she wants it. Women can never again be told that they do not belong in industry.

Another most important position bearing upon the post-war status of women will be the passage of Uranus into Cancer during the summer of 1948. Cancer corresponds to the fourth house which rules home and the early life of children. There will come radical changes with regard to American ideas of home and family life. Under this influence, means will be provided for women who want to work and raise families too. Granting of leave to expectant mothers, job guarantees, extensive nurseries for young children of working mothers are among the things we can expect.

In normal times, most women want no more than a happy marriage in a world where there is peace and financial security. Opportunities for this will be plentiful in days to come. Uranus in Gemini helps us to win the war and take the international lead in business and industrialism. And even before the war is over, the marriage rate will continue to rise. When Saturn enters Cancer next year, many men who never thought of marriage before will start to think about settling down.

During the next year we can also look for a certain amount of reaction away from the present war psychology which snatches pleasure without considering the problems of permanent emotional adjustment. During the next couple of years, many women now single will be married and will not be concerned about holding permanent jobs. Saturn in Cancer will establish many happy homes.

These days of stress have brought women to the front, and the aspects which we have considered as aiding women in war work have done her the additional service of bringing her many problems of adjustment into the light where they can be examined. The present Uranus in Gemini trine Neptune in Libra causes great interest in women's social and industrial place in a modern society. Later, the Uranian passage into Cancer will focus force upon bringing to fulfillment in our society the plans which so many women's leaders advocate today.

The Saturnian transit into Cancer, followed by the Uranian transit into the same Sign bodes well for the future of American women. The plans and dreams of women today will find fruition in reality. The American scene for women will be such that woman will be able to choose what she wants to do with her life.

In the future, the lessons learned during these days of war will be put to good use. Whether by marriage, career, or a blending of both—woman will be able to reach joyfully her main goal—the emotional abundance that springs from the unhampered expression of herself as a woman and a citizen.

mented, bone correction is quite possible with braces, etc. Many great souls are born under the leader Leo and the humanitarian Aquarius and if they can be helped even a little the entire race benefits greatly, to say nothing of relieving such pitiful cases, individually, as our little girl friend.

Returning for a moment to the cause. A report recently issued by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis states that over half a million has been spent on the virus program since 1939 and after injecting countless animals with fluid from human victims they found that the Rhesus monkey was the only one to incur something similar to human infantile paralysis.

This was not only hard on the organ grinders and other animals but the monkeys cost about $10.00 apiece, because they had to be transported from India—half way round the world and many of these delicate little animals died enroute. So that let the monkey out of it. Next, it was found that the Southern wild cotton rat would respond "favorably." However the natives of the South would not trap them for two cents each, like the Indian native would the monkeys so the scientists tried to breed them in the laboratory. The result of this experiment was that instead of mating they (the rats) killed each other until creosote was applied to them to banish body odors. Now that problem is solved but that is about all.

Astrologers and metaphysical scientists believe that poliomyelitis is caused by karma. One of the reasons is that the hub of the trouble centers around the fixed signs Aquarius and Leo. And Saturn the planet of sorrow together with Neptune ruling Pisces the sign of ripe destiny. But from a standpoint of pure reason, let us ask the question: could a child of three or less contract all this trouble by generating this terrible virus internally in such a short time? For the disease is definitely not contagious. Any doctor admits that heredity plays an important part in disease, such as cancer, etc., but strangely enough none of these diseases are "catching." Even to the most common one—consumption.

The occultist is very sure that a returning ego is entitled to and gets what he has earned in past lives. And that if he inherits disease tendencies he was entitled to just the kind of parental bodies that gave him birth, no more and no less. If this can be accepted then why look for the cause in a virus?

Why not look for a cure like Sister Kenny, that internationally known nurse, who is getting such splendid results by an involved system of manipulations which she has taught many other nurses? Where the cases have not been too severe she has put many people back to almost normal. These are hospital records published by a large national magazine about two years ago.

Astrologers are not doubtful about the astro-cause, which they contend is correct because the horoscope is a map of ALL the lives of the ego, showing his stage in evolution, physically, mentally and spiritually. It plainly shows his cosmic bank balance, so to speak, his assets as well as the liabilities.

The field in the cure of the disease is making fine progress by Sister Kenny's methods, and hydrotherapy has proven its worth as witness that Mr. Roosevelt goes to Hot Springs regularly. Diet is being considered also and let us devote the rest of this piece to diet therapy, from an astrological viewpoint.

The foregoing purports to show that infantile paralysis is caused by some inimical agency which affects the nerve cal management, economics, depressions, agriculture, land, buildings, labor and the Democratic party).

Our nation was founded on the basis that in union (Libra) there is strength. Libra influence brought about the merging of the thirteen colonies into a national association. This gives credence to the arguments of those astrological students who claim Libra to be the ascendant for the U. S. horoscope.

One of Libra's expressions in our national life is the two-party political system wherein the population is divided into two factions. This leads up to our Libra secretary of our State Department. The department was recently in the limelight because of a disagreement between Secretary Hull and Undersecretary Welles, which resulted in the resignation of the latter and the appointment of Edward J. Stettinius as his successor.

Astrologically considered, all three gentlemen were born under the sign Libra. In its positive phase, Libra seeks agreement—the adhesive element in nature. In its negative manifestation, Libra is productive of disagreements which lead to separation. It forms partnerships but breaks them. It prompts marriage but also impels divorce. One of its expressions is a tendency toward diplomatic breaks and war.

Mr. Hull was born when the Sun was in the first or Venus decanate of Libra, this section emphasizing friendliness, cooperation, sociability and the element of policy. This latter phase is closely allied to appeasement as the word is applied today.

Lest the wrong impression be created here, it is but fair to point out that Hull is no "weak sister" who is afraid to offend once he is assured he is right and his cause is just. On one hand he is kindly, humane, pleasant and considerate; on the other, he is the rugged individual, frank, forceful and outspoken. Mars in Sagittarius brings this latter quality out in him.

The Venus element is prominent in the Hull temperament, for Moon was in Taurus (the practical and material side of Venus) at his birth. Mr. Hull can thus successfully blend diplomatic procedure with practical commercialism.

Jupiter in Cancer square to Neptune in Aries in the Hull chart subjects him to deception from foreigners where war is the issue. Venus in the end of Virgo, merged with the progressions of Sun afflicting Neptune in the U. S. horoscope at the time the two deceptive Japanese representatives distracted Mr. Hull with their spurious peace proposals right on up to the instant of the Pearl Harbor attack.

The stimuli of transit Uranus to the place of the Sun in his birth chart timed with the Russian conference in October 1943. This boded well for the final outcome of the conference which Mr. Hull attended at such personal sacrifice to himself when we consider his age and the condition of his health. The transit of Neptune at the locality of natal Sun in the Hull chart gave promise of Secretary Hull's success there and the really brilliant achievements he attained in his dealing with Mr. Stalin.

The Hull-Welles controversy was a casualty of the solar eclipse of July 31, 1943. Due to the eclipse the disagreement factor of the sign Libra became operative. This eclipse, near the place of the Moon in the Welles chart, in adverse aspect to the Nodes, with progressed Uranus (governmental service) already moved into position at the South Node (cup of sorrow) was a sheer indication of misfortune of a secret character (South Node in Scorpio).

A comparison of the Hull and Welles charts shows a clash of ambitions—Saturn in each chart in exact adverse square aspect to the other.

It is astrologically significant that Mr. Welles was replaced by another Libra—Mr. Edward J. Stettinius. The new under-secretary was born October 22, 1900 with both Sun and Moon in Libra. This stresses all that this peaceful and well-disposed sign expresses in the world.

Mr. Stettinius was appointed by the President and we note that Venus (ruling planet of Libra) was located in Virgo at the same zodiacal locality as the ascendant in the President's chart. This made for friendliness and understanding.

The Sun in the Stettinius chart is trine to both Mars and Mercury in the President's chart and so the new appointee should work very well under the direction of the Chief Executive.

Unfortunately, this cannot be unqualifiedly said of the relations between the new Under Secretary and his immediate superior. The Saturn conjunction in the charts of Messers Hull and Stettinius will probably limit their ability to see eye to eye. They do, however, possess many of the same Libra qualities, and will thus be likely to maintain at least official and outward harmony.

Mr. Stettinius is the high-pressure, financial and industrial type, with a pronounced leaning toward governmental financial management and dealings (Jupiter conjunct Uranus in Sagittarius). While not trained for diplomatic service, he has a flair for getting results.

A study of the Stettinius chart shows that he is well-fitted to cope with post-war financial problems of state and that he will be of real value to the department.

It is to be hoped that any friction between Secretary Hull and his new assistant which might arise from astrological causes will be sublimated to the good of the service.

BLOOD TEST

sociate. An investigator, Joseph E. P. Dunn, and Miss Berry's attorney also were in attendance, while outside pacing the corridors were a bevy of newspaper men. Nor was it the usual thing when immediately after birth the infant was placed in a special nursery under padlock (twelfth house is the house of imprisonment)—thus impounding her as evidence—with the key held by the hospital superintendent.

Chaplin denied at the time of the suit that he was the baby's father, but in the interim agreement he made a weekly allowance for Miss Berry and put up $2500 for medical costs and the support of the mother during the four months before the blood tests. These tests are to be taken by a board of three physicians, one chosen by Miss Berry, one chosen by Chaplin, and one chosen by these two doctors at the time of the tests.

It would be presumptuous for astrology to try a case in advance which is waiting on science and a court decision. But it may not be amiss to point out that, with Neptune, the planet of confused ideas when it is afflicted, representing the mother (tenth) and co-ruler of the father (fourth) square Saturn (the child) and trine Uranus in the house of secret things (twelfth), that the verdict will be a subject of much controversy and will still leave doubt in the minds of many.

The rising position of Saturn indicates that Carol Ann will have a hard struggle in early life. Not because of lack of money, but because she has real talent and will be compelled to work so hard to develop it. The paternity of the youngster may still be a matter of doubt in the minds of many after the blood tests, but that Carol Ann has dramatic talent is outstanding by the prominence of Neptune in her chart of birth.

In the charts of movie stars, Mars is prominent more often than any other planet. Here we have Mars in prominence (conjunction) aspect with the Ascendant, and square Mercury. Next to Mars in prominence, as revealed by the analysis of the timed birth-charts of 100 movie stars, is a prominent Uranus. Carol Ann has Uranus trine the Sun, sextile Pluto, square Venus and trine Neptune.

In most movie stars' charts Neptune, Mercury and Venus also are all prominent. And here we have all three in an angle and making powerful aspects.

In addition to planetary prominence, the analysis showed that in most stars' charts both the first house and the fifth house were active. This means that they must have an active personality (first); and that they must have thought-cells mapped by the house of stage and screen (fifth) active enough to take them into this profession.

Carol Ann has Saturn in the first house, powerfully aspected, and she has the Sun in the fifth. Sun trine Uranus gives a powerful personal magnetism, and ability through it to influence others. And it indicates sudden and fortunate events relative to the house occupied by the Sun. MYSTIC LIFE ill-paid bookkeeper (that was the depression), who'd never ridden a horse or been in a limousine with a chauffeur, knew no "Mr. Nolan." About three months later papa lost his job, and managed to get another as an assistant to a mining engineer whose name was Noolan. We thought nothing of it until Mr. Noolan got the opportunity to go to S. America for a large concern. The day he left, a limousine complete with chauffeur unexpectedly called to take father and Mr. Noolan to the station. The official was in riding clothes, high boots, etc. Well everything happened just as the kid brother had dreamed it months before, papa going on the big boat, getting injured by a horse, and many months later, returning home with more money and better prospects than he'd ever hoped to have. Maybe we should pay more attention to these kids we accuse of having "tall imaginations!"

Chester Daly Niblit

The average child, before the "age of reason" has engulfed him, definitely is more accurately intuitive than the average adult. Pit any class of children under 14 years, against any class of adults 21 or older, in any test of psychic ability (such as the ESP card shuffle test, i.e., "guessing" the order of the shuffled cards), and we find the children putting the adults to shame. Modern education, however, does not yet fully recognize nor encourage these psychic abilities, so that in a few years of stressing logic and materialism, these abilities, in most cases, deteriorate.

DOUBLE VISION

Dear Christina Dahl: My sister and I, identical twins, were born in London, Feb. 26, 1915, 4 p.m. We often have the same psychic experiences at the same time. This one happened when we were 18 years old. Father was on a construction job 700 miles away, not expected home for another two months. Us twins were sitting on the porch sewing one afternoon. Suddenly, on the road running parallel the house, 200 feet distant, we saw my dad's car slow down, then turn in the driveway to the garage. He got out, waving to us with a funny rag doll he'd evidently bought for our baby sister. Then, the vision (it was that) faded, and impressed, we ran in and told Mother, who was not impressed. Next day, sitting on the porch as before, my twin and I saw the same thing. Only this time after getting out of the car and waving the funny doll at us, Father did not disappear. He had come back suddenly, wanting to surprise us. When Mother told him about our psychic experience of the day before he was amazed, said that he had just bought the doll that very day, had happened to see it in a store window. That he hadn't even thought of buying it at the time we girls had that vision!

Mrs. J. F. Flershem
Flint, Michigan

This appears to be an authentic case of double clairvoyance, which is very rare. Astrological students will note these twins have their birth Sun in the mediumistic, receptive sign Pisces, and Neptune, another of the ESP planets, in conjunction with their Moon. Current Neptune was transiting opposite their natal Sun at the time of the experience, thus activating their extra-sensory perceptions.

A CASE OF TELEPATHY?

Dear Christina Dahl: It was December, 1935. I was expecting a baby any day, and my husband had gone to work, and the children to school, all but the five-year-old girl. The labor pains had begun . . . I was intending to send my little girl for the neighbor woman to help (we lived some miles from town), but exhausted, fell into a sleep for perhaps five minutes. I dreamed I saw my parents, my sister and her family walking in from the highway as our long driveway was blocked. Awakening, I told the little girl she would not need to go for the neighbor lady. Sure enough, some minutes later we saw my parents, sister and family coming, looking exactly as I had seen them in my dream. My dream had occurred at the exact time they had all decided to come, on a hunch.

Mrs. Roy Howell
Hinckley, Minnesota

A question here might be: Did the lady's family decide to go to her because they received a telepathic impulse from her, or did the lady receive the dream impression after they had decided to come to see her? Telepathy is indicated, however, whether one-way or two-way. This is the more common type of psychic experience. Most people have the power, through constant use and attention, to develop their psychic powers to this extent, i.e., of sending and receiving thought impressions to and from others. A useful thing, in time of need!

Gemini favors literary work as well as carving and other manual skills. The fact that this person works with his brains rather than with his hands is shown by the rudimentary form of his letter "r". Note this letter in the words "yours", "truly" and "Mrs.". The "r" is practically shapeless. If it had the little hump shown in all the copy books, and was rather broad for its height it would indicate manual skill. Otherwise this carelessly formed letter indicates mental activity. Note that this is also shown by the grand trine between Mercury, Mars and Saturn in air signs. This shows a mental rather than a purely manual worker. The long terminals of the words "yours", "the", "Madam" and "me" indicate courage and an aggressive temperament; a forceful character; and domineering to a degree. These traits have been noted in the chart.

The individual design of the final "d" in "method" shows independence and originality and freedom from conventions, as paralleled by Uranus square Jupiter. That the writer is not conceited nor egotistical is indicated by the low "t" stem in "method" and the still smaller "d" in "madam". It is unusual to find an aggressive person who is not also a confirmed egotist; but this writing does not have the usual signs of egotism, which are: a tall "d" stem, and a high loop to the letter "h". Note how very short the "h" loops are in "method" and "the". There are many signs of dominance, but not of egotism. The "m"s in "Mrs.", "Madam" and "method" show the third stroke tends to be slightly higher than the second. Dominance and self-will differ from egotism and self-esteem. This lack of self-esteem can be attributed to Mars in Libra and Saturn in Aquarius, both of which have softening influence to an otherwise aggressive and ambitious nature.

It is interesting to note how several of the degrees in which the various planets are found are described by Wemyss. This, of course, has no connection with aspects. Uranus in Sagittarius 23° shows a desire to stand high in public opinion. The Sun in Cancer 4° shows a desire to control others. The 9th degree of Libra, which is occupied by Mars, indicates superiority; and Sagittarius 23° occupied by Uranus indicates elasticity, expansiveness, which are also Jupiterian qualities. Venus in Leo 19° shows eminence and Jupiter in Pisces 22° shows deception; in this case growing out of excessive imagination. There is no indication of actual deceit in either the chart or the handwriting, but the writer is like the character in Dickens, who, in telling a story "had told it so often he believed it himself".

Watch your hooks and "t" bars—till next time!

YOUR LOVE LIFE

ing more pleasure in your company, before your own fireside. Start thinking less in terms of "I," and more in terms of "We," and you'll soon find you two can achieve more harmony together. It's worth working for, Friend!

DEVOTED SON

Dear Miss Dahl: R. (born Apr. 22, 1917) and I were engaged for a year and had planned on being married this fall but now it seems it is all off . . . his mother objects . . . now he says he just isn't ready to get married yet . . . I know he loves me but wish he wasn't so weak . . . he is an only child. I was born Nov. 10, 1924.

I. R., Ohio

The young man's birth Moon, which represents the mother-influence, is conjunct Mercury and Jupiter, and square his Uranus. With other contributing aspects, this indicates to me that so long as his mother is alive, she is likely to exercise more influence over his decisions and actions, than any other woman—such as his fiancée or wife. Are you content to occupy second place in a man's heart? Not if I know you Scorpio girls! I suggest you get yourself un-betrothed, Friend, and be in no hurry to enter another engagement for at least a year. You are likely to meet someone you will love very much more, who will be capable of giving you a more whole-hearted devotion. Choose a man who is devoted to his mother—such men make good husbands—but not to the extreme that the wife must always occupy second place!

QUADRANGLE

Dear Miss Dahl: The lawyer is waiting for the signature on the papers of divorce from my husband . . . we had not gotten along for years . . . I am in love with another man. Are we suited to each other . . . our tastes are alike. Why isn't he getting a divorce? Is he still interested in his wife? His date, Dec. 28, 1905. Mine, Sept. 21, 1907; husband Apr. 19, 1902.

Mrs. S.E.J., Illinois

Astrologically, it appears that Mr. Capricorn is not quite convinced that he should try to go through with a divorce at this time. When Saturn opposes his birth Uranus and Sun next summer, it is possible he may consider it. In the meantime, your own chart, with Saturn square your birth Sun, Moon and Saturn, indicates the probability of delay until some time past summer, 1944, of your hopes in love matters. As you did not give me the birth date of Mr. Capricorn's wife, I cannot give you any opinion concerning whether you or she occupy the largest place in his affections.

In the matter of a possible divorce on his part, you would be wise not to try to influence him one way or another—for if it is not entirely his own decision, he might regret it. Use discretion in love matters particularly until next summer, Friend.

ANOTHER BLIND DATE

Dear Christina Dahl: I met a boy May 30th of this year. It was a blind date . . . we started going together and were good friends until last month . . . he broke his last date with me, saying he was restricted to camp . . . I was cool, as he had been on furlough and hadn't even seen me . . . He hasn't called since. I was born Dec. 20, 1925. He, May 28, 1922.

Eva B., Texas

You know, Eva, from what I've seen of the results of "blind dates," it isn't a good way to meet boy friends. A girl has a couple of strikes on her, right off the bat. The average young man will naturally assume the girl to be a bit unconventional and not quite ladylike if she is willing to date him before he has met her family. This particular boy, with squares to his Sun and Moon in Gemini, is not likely to achieve emotional stability for several years. Don't depend on him, Friend. Your right mate isn't likely to come on the scene for three or four years yet, Eva. Your standards and desires will undergo many changes in that time—so, don't be in too much of a hurry to find romance!

Vocational and General Queries

B. A., CALIF. (May 15, 1923): Architectural engineering is indicated as your best field, by Sun and Moon in Taurus, and Mars and Saturn in trine aspect.

R.E.B., MINN. (May 11, 1908): When a lady writes to a man thrice per week, and he returns with a letter once in two months, she can be sure it is not love on his part. Were he overseas, or in a position unable to write, the case could be otherwise. Better look for a man who will appreciate you, Miss Taurus. Creative cycle for love: July 1944-July 1945.

T.U., OKLA. (Dec. 4, 1926): A professional teaching career in art is indicated by your birth Sun and Moon in Sagittarius, in stellium with Venus and Saturn in the ninth house.

N.S., ILL. (June 15, 1914): Don't let old man Saturn get you down, Mr. Gemini! He's squaring your birth moon from the place of your Sun, thus affecting your energy and optimism. Next spring brings relief from this negative marital and health vibration. Until then, be just a little more tolerant and good-humored, and the wife will give you better cooperation!

A.N.E., CALIF. (Nov. 9, 1924): You have fine creative ability and a flair for dramatic portrayal, indicated by Sun and Saturn trine Mars and Uranus. Moon trine Neptune and Jupiter will give you imagination and popular appeal. Definitely, the theater is for you!

MRS. H.M., and MRS. C.W.: Please read instructions at the head of this department. Sorry, I can't answer your questions without the year of birth of all concerned.

A.D., NEV. (Dec. 19, 1909): Like many other couples born in Sagittarius, Gemini, or Virgo, you and your husband are now going through a period of marital strain. Relief from this is indicated by the end of spring. Meanwhile, instead of making so much of your disagreements and differences, do all you can to stress and "play up" your mutualities, the things you do agree on. Just a little more love and trust is needed now, Mrs. Sagittarius!

E.K.T., MASS. (Jan. 31, 1896): Many of you Aquarians who had serious love, domestic, and career problems while Uranus transited Taurus not so long ago, now are coming into a period of reconstruction and progress. You, Mr. T., should find a new beginning possible in your career, and the next five to six years should enable you to achieve your public ambitions. Re-marriage, and establishment of a really constructive domestic life, indicated within the year.

J.J.D., ALA. (Mar. 15, 1915): It would be unwise to change your vocation at present while current Saturn squares your Pisces Sun, transiting natal Saturn. From now until June, when this vibration wanes, concentrate on holding on to your security, your money, your present gains. Following June, a change may be made without the risk you would face now.

V.S., TEXAS. (Apr. 7, 1917): You are letting yourself in for plenty of heartaches, Friend, if you continue this relationship with the married Gemini man. In your Union Chart, his Saturn squares your Sun, Mars, and Venus. That does not look as though he is anxious to get a divorce and marry you. Your progressions indicate probable marriage in about two or three years, but not to this man.

REV. R., MICH. (Aug. 4, 1873): A wife who leaves a husband who is ill and almost helpless, in order to go on a round of visiting out of town, can't have much love in her heart for him. My judgment is that your wife wants to terminate this marriage. It will do little good to resist, Reverend. Carry on in the faith that the future will bring you a companion, perhaps a widow from your own flock, who will be a helpmate in your good work.

MRS. B.D., MINN. (Apr. 8, 1910): You and your husband's brother are infatuated, nothing more. Had you and he been together for thirteen years, I question you would be as congenial as you are with your own husband. You have a better marriage than many couples attain. Thank God for it, and use your imagination for something constructive. Get an emotional outlet in literary or artistic work—you have talent there.

on everything. Cheery messages, invitations to parties and domestic harmony are sponsored by Venus, so rejoice and be glad. Cherish each radiant hour. Do not run away in fact or theory from its allure. Buy something attractive to wear. Have your picture taken.

You could easily get a glittering reputation for having a striking and picturesque personality if you care for that sort of publicity during this cycle.

Venus, thy eternal sway

All the races of men obey.

—Euripides

For Sagittarius: Romantic hopes, or an indulgent enjoyment of the sentimental happiness of others may send your spirits soaring. Your head and heart should be in happy accord and your sympathy make for mutual joy. Old friends and familiar haunts may contribute to your happiness something deeper and more abiding than the blandishments of acquaintances who are "ships that pass in the night."

A favorite time to patch up a romantic quarrel that was or wants to be.

Love and desire are the spirit's wings to great deeds.

—Goethe

For Capricorn: If you have been separated from loved ones, the vibrant Venus rays offer the chance for reunion and resumed love. Or a new romance may come your way.

Perhaps you will be showered with so many invitations that you will not be able to accept them all. In any event, you will not be melancholy, because dominant romance is in your vicinity.

Do what you can to make life pleasant for others and thereby add to your own enjoyment.

And when Love speaks the voice of all gods

Make heaven drowsy with harmony

—Shakespeare

For Aquarius: Emotional bliss is accruable through your heart-held affections and social pleasures. Whatever the measure of your contentment it will be exceeded by a great amount of happiness due to the current transits of the romance planet. The cycle may lead you to a veritable promised land. Accept the good that comes your way.

Cultivate a new elegance through the study of Astrology. Perhaps more than anything else, the planet Venus is the positive symbol of glamor.

Love is the emblem of eternity; it confounds all notion of time; effaces all memory of a beginning, all fear of an end.

—Madame De Stael

For Pisces: You should feel particularly gay and animated under the Venus vibrations. Perhaps the world may take on a rosy hue.

Give free play to all the sweetness of your disposition—and make the animating vibratory impulses fill this period with pleasant things to be filed away tenderly in memory.

March out on parade; buy new clothes; enjoy games, sports. Let happiness envelop you with warm embrace.

SAGITTARIUS LOOKING AHEAD

actually producing advantages and disadvantages resulting in gains and losses. This is very confusing at times and unless you practice continual self-analysis you may be inclined to blame others or the world for conditions created by your own attitude. The encouraging element which somewhat offsets this tendency is the optimism given you by your ruling Jupiter.

This duality manifests itself as two paths of action, the condition being unusually stressed during 1944. Two types of influence come from the positions of the planets. One group will be in your opposite sign Gemini, which is less than favorable because it is composed of the three malific planets: Mars (to March 28), Saturn (to June 28) and Uranus for the entire year.

The other path is represented by Jupiter, ruler of your sign, in Leo. This is one of the best localities of your chart and its influence is a most helpful and beneficent one, continuing up to July 25, 1944. This position of Jupiter acts to cushion the impacts from the Mars-Saturn opposition.

There is a division of the year into two parts which has a special meaning for you. The first part is represented by the good Jupiter protective and productive trine aspect, denoting optimism, expansion and improvement of your personal, business and social position which can be counted on from December 1, 1943 to July 25, 1944.

This is your opportunity of the year, so lay your plans accordingly. Build soundly but don't be afraid to grasp the obvious opportunities which lie in your path. The only note of caution is that you should not commit yourself too heavily to anything which depends for its success upon the period after July 25. Incidentally, it would be well to lay something aside for the future in this first period of the year.

The second part of the year begins with the shifting of Jupiter from Leo to Virgo on July 26, 1944. The period beginning at this time has its favorable aspects and opportunity, the chief difference being that during this time you must depend more on others, such as partners and associates and less upon your own judgment and individual efforts than in the first half of the year. Fortunately, a good producing aspect will continue between your ruling Jupiter and the planet Saturn, who governs your financial department during the last five months of the year.

Your major channels are shown to be centered in activities concerned with partnership, marriage, public relations, contests and litigation. These will be blended in with finance, property, persons of mature age and neighbors.

A kind of in-between period of the years is when a minor Saturn cycle ends in Gemini (your department which relates you to others) and opens in Cancer (governing your financial relationships, marital and business) on June 20th. Your manner of conducting your affairs in June have a bearing on the year, and your best bet is to retrench slightly here, as national and world events may touch on your financial involvement. The condition starting here is relieved by August.

Some of your chief high spots of the year follow the second conjunction of Mars and Uranus on January 16th. The influences are unfavorable for health, travel, marital relations, business partnership. Use extreme care in these things in the period immediately following the above date. Live as nearly as possible a normal life, watch your diet, avoid needless and dangerous travel, hold your temper and keep serene.

July 5th, 1943 and the period immediately following it can bring an opportunity for an advantageous change in some department of your life, especially travel, military service or speculation and investments.

Neptune in Libra is productive of friendships with people of a mystic temperament and stresses the psychical-spiritual side of your nature. Political and humanitarian reforms may claim your interest due to this position of Neptune.

All in all, a less spectacular mode of life than is usual with you is recommended for 1944. Be enterprising and progressive, but avoid the sensational in all your activities. Actually, this will be far more difficult than would seem to be the case, for the events ahead call for lightning decisions and tempt you to do the spectacular thing.

The element of change is more prominent than might be desired, and it will take all your Sagittarian gift of prophecy to call the turns in advance. At the same time, these changes mean opportunities and it is the nature of your sign to respond to just such a challenge as the year ahead of you presents.

mere physical attractiveness in her bearing. It has a quality all its own, and Astrology shows the reason for this. At her birth Venus and the Moon were trine, through Aquarius and Gemini, both Air Signs.

Being the extrovert type, enjoying the good things of life, you want things to happen quickly. You are impatient with laggards. When you say anything, you don't have any reservations. You are frank, and you expect others to be equally open with you. Work with vim, play with moderation, and hold on to your hopes with tenacity. That is the way to carry out the edict of the Celestial Formula.

tightening of purse strings is certainly recommended, at least up to August 1st.

Fortunately for you, Jupiter leaves Leo and enters Virgo—a favorable position—on July 26th, 1944. In doing this, Jupiter forms a good contact aspect with Saturn, which reduces the adverse pressure to your own chart as well as to that of the United States for the remainder of the year. This somewhat offsets the unfavorable trend which follows June 20th, and should allow you to go along financially with some degree of success, although not to the degree promised from January 1st to June 20th.

The sign Gemini governs your department of labor and health. This area of your solar chart is activated during the entire year. This stimulates affairs pertaining to your trade or profession, bringing extra work and a high pressure that may upset your nerves and weaken your vitality. By June you may have developed signs of energy depletion and, should this be the case, there are certain dangers because when Saturn enters Cancer on June 20th he threatens your vitality, indicating a retarding of vital energy. Because of the above indications, you should act in every reasonable way to conserve your forces.

From June onward, diet and nutrition are unusually important. Remember that only healthy people have the force to contend with today's trying conditions, thus your diet will have an important bearing on your success.

Jupiter, the financial planet, is in Leo up to July 25. This indicates financial success through channels wherein your financial interests are tied in with those of another such as business and marital partnerships or the favorable culmination of a legacy or estate. There is also a tendency toward over-optimism and undue expansion at this time. Don't let your optimism urge you to borrow money for expansion or promotional purposes.

Uranus, whose tendencies are toward sudden and unexpected events and who also rules governmental operations, will be in your health and employment department throughout the year. Results from this will be noted as better before August of 1944, as from that time on there will be a steady contention existing between this planet and Jupiter which has a disturbing effect upon your finances.

The position of Neptune may cause some trouble and annoyance for this planet of mystery will be in the coopertrouble and to keep your social relations on a high plane.

Politics often attracts you Capricorn people and this important political year will be no exception. A very excitable period is likely to develop in the summer and continue through until Election Day. Despite your interest in politics now, your own prospects in these channels are dubious. While Jupiter favors you, your ruling Saturn restricts you to some extent and Neptune is against you. It is no year in which to gamble your all on a political victory.

Following August unmarried Capricornians may find themselves facing grave decisions of a matrimonial nature. New romantic attachments are indicated but this is a period in which more than the usual amount of deliberation will be necessary to avoid an unwise union.

Pluto, now in Leo, forms no direct good aspect to your sign but does have a somewhat favorable influence upon financial matters wherein others besides yourself are involved. It is somewhat encouraging for cooperative schemes with an economic background, but extreme care should be used if these others are new acquaintances and have hitherto not been associated with you. There is an underlying occult indication that your success at this time will accrue from endeavors which tend to benefit the many rather than enrich the few. Keep this in mind at all times.

but when he goes to an extreme it is unconventional. In love, especially, one must be wary of a bad aspect of Uranus. He can bring idealistic romances, or just the opposite.

Look upon a transit of Uranus as an opportunity to renew yourself in some way. Develop a new interest or talent. Accept the experiences that come your way as lessons or as stepping stones of progress. Welcome its presence in the horoscope as a sign of new powers developing within you. Do not resist anything that points to new conditions and avoid only that which is apt to be destructive to yourself or others.

Uranus is awakening you to a revaluation of yourself and of life.

Uranus in Gemini (where it is now) stirs up new ideas in the mass mind. Thus it brings about rapid developments in invention, science, design, technical skills. Freedom of speech (Gemini) will be important. People will want to know exactly what is going on, and will not like the repressing of news. This will gradually bring things out into the open.

The desire for liberty and democracy will grow all over the world. This is one of the issues of the present world war.

But let us not forget that democracy means self government, and that self government must begin with the individual himself. Until we learn that, and learn to govern ourselves—which requires self discipline, and self control—we will not have complete and true democracy. Democracy has not failed, but man has failed to live up to the ideal of democracy.

Thus does Uranus continue to awaken us, not to rebellion against whatever the existing conditions may be; but to an understanding of its true meaning—a love of mankind, to play the game of life with true sportsmanship—to know that true freedom is found only in cooperation—and to uphold the principles of equality, tolerance, fraternity.

The temporary change will do much to instill enthusiasm into your actions.

Success days in February and March: (February—6, 15, 24) (March—7, 16, 25).

SAGITTARIUS: Emulate the squirrel by being foresighted. You are too busy to bother with the past or future, yet it would pay you to inspect your possessions and assets. Now is the time for a survey of what you own and what you hope to accumulate. But don't be like some people who save for a rainy day without bothering to enjoy the present.

Success days in February and March: (February—2, 11, 20, 29) (March—3, 12, 21, 30).

CAPRICORN: With sensitive realization of how to direct your talents to best purpose, you should be able to reap the harvests of past endeavors. Get as much relaxation out of your spare time as possible, and for recreation study Astrology. You should be able to find the right answer to abstruse questions under the inspiring guidance of Neptune.

Success days in February and March: (February—1, 10, 19, 28) (March—2, 11, 20, 29).

AQUARIUS: Your path to enlightenment is so clear that you should achieve great truths. Get as much knowledge and amusement out of life as possible, yet keep in touch with reality. With friendly rays from Jupiter, your contentment as well as security should be at a high peak, as well as your instinct for successful strategy and efficient planning.

Success days in February and March: (February—5, 14, 23) (March—6, 15, 24).

PISCES: Dynamic Mercury holds the center of the zodiacal stage, so use your progressive ideas and theories in a pioneering, practical way. Ask for new responsibilities in your job. Start a project and see it through to a logical finish. This is a period to begin the accumulation of personal assets on your own behalf. Do not wait to be boosted; be your own propeller.
